Too Young to Lose

Q. I would like to go to the night clubs and casinos of Las Vegas, but am only 18 years old. I've heard that this is old enough to play in the casinos. Am I right? D. H. C., Wilmington.

A. No. Nevada state law states that the minimum age for gambling and consuming alcoholic drinks is 21. Jan Mead, secretary to the Lyon County district attorney in Carson City, said the law further prohibits anyone under 21 from loitering in game rooms or bars. "About the only thing minors can do is walk through casinos on their way somewhere else," she said. Most casinos employ security guards who check the ages of the younger patrons.

Ill-Starred?

Q. How are mobile home parks rated? When a park is advertised as a five star and does not come up to the qualifications, where can I complain? M.W., Long Beach.

GRAFFITI by Leary

A. John Edwards, editor of Western Mobile Home News in Long Beach, said that Woodall Publishing Co., 500 Haycynth Place, Highland Park, Ill. 60635, has developed five star rating system for mobile home parks in which the more stars, the higher the rating. The ratings are published in Woodall's Mobile Home Park Directory. Sub-standard parks are not listed. A spokesman for Woodall Publishing Co. told ACTION LINE that the firm employs 31 husband-and-wife teams who inspect mobile home parks in the United States, Mexico and Canada. They look for specific things such as clean restrooms, patios, recreational facilities and location, and then turn in a report. The report is sent to Woodall's which compares it to its own standards and rates the park. Normally, each park is rated once a year, but if Woodall's receives complaints about the rating and park, it will send an inspector out to review the case.

Support Lost Cause

Q. Recently, I received my property tax refund check of $70. I understand that Los Angeles County Assessor Phillip E. Watson incurred a large debt on his Proposition 9 campaign to limit property taxes. Has the debt been paid off? If not, how can I send a donation from my refund check? D.P., Long Beach.

A. There is still an outstanding campaign debt of approximately $63,000, said Frank Petty, Watson's press deputy. Donations are being accepted. Checks should be made out to Committee for Proposition 9, not Watson, in care of the Los Angeles County Assessor's Office, Hall of Administration, 500 W. Temple Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

Medical Aides

Q. When I graduated from high school 12 years ago, I landed a job as an orderly at St. Mary's Hospital in Long Beach. My nephew has just received his high school diploma, and would like to know if the program still is open. J. D. S., Long Beach.

A. High school students with little or no medical training are hired by St. Mary's Hospital for such jobs as kitchen help, laundry worker and orderly. Joan McCoy of the hospital's personnel office said trainee interns, or orderlies, transport patients and sometimes run errands. "They don't have to have a medical background," she said. "But we like to get young people who have had hospital experience or who have an interest in medical work." The hospital hires boys more often than girls for such positions, but occasionally there are openings for female clerks or kitchen help. Have your nephew check with the personnel office at 10th Street and Linden Avenue for more information.

Sheet Stocks

Q. I have been getting used X-ray film, cleaning it and using it for things I make. I understand there are companies in Los Angeles which buy the film and sell the government the silver from it. What do they do with the film after they clean the silver from it? It would help if I could get the already-cleaned film. A.H., Long Beach.

A. Robert Green of Security Processing Co., 5662 S. Hoover Blvd., Los Angeles, 750-1214 and William Mann of H.S. Mann Metals, 301 Coolidge Ave., Los Angeles, 660-0440, said they could clean your used X-ray film or trade you cleaned, blank stock for it. Most X-ray film brokerages in Southern California no longer chemically clean the X-ray film for the silver. Instead, they rely on a cheaper process of burning the film, and reclaiming the silver dust from the ash.

Skirt Tale

Q. Where can I purchase longer than normal dresses and skirts. I wear a size 12 and don't like the mini styles. J.W., Lakewood.

A. Bullock's Department Store, 5005 Clark Ave., Lakewood, carries two brands of dresses, Georgia Bullock and Wragge, which are a longer than average length. The dresses are found in the Castilian Room. In Los Angeles, ACTION LINE found the House of Skirts, 7702 Melrose Ave. The store carries ready-made skirts in many styles, but the hems are not yet put up, so each customer can choose her own length. Skirt prices start at about $10.

WETTEST JULY DAY IN HISTORY

Lightning-Packed Storm Sweeps L.B.

By BILL HOMER
Staff Writer

The wettest July day in Long Beach history was recorded Friday as a lightning-packed summer storm ripped over Los Angeles and Orange counties, causing a rash of fires, power failures and traffic accidents.

At least .14 inch of rain fell on downtown Long Beach amid heavy precipitation that began shortly after 1 p.m. and moved north away from the harbor a short time later.

Second wettest July day locally was recorded on the 13th of the month in 1953, when .02 of an inch of rain fell on the city. July generally is the driest month of the year in the Southland.

Weathermen said only .01 inch fell on Long Beach Airport Friday, but more light rain fell about sundown there and in Belmont Shore, Lakewood and nearby communities Friday evening.

The Southland ranked behind Worthington Falls, Ohio, as wettest place in the nation Friday, however. That city, also visited by a summer afternoon storm, logged a rainfall total of 6.50 inches.

Forecasters predict better weather for the Southland over the weekend. Mostly sunny skies were expected to return this morning, with only selected mountain and desert areas expected to remain under the storm's blanket. The unseasonal weather, which unexpectedly moved over the area on a front of moist, tropical air, was blamed for a tenfold increase in traffic accidents in Los Angeles, and many shoppers were stranded during the afternoon.

An electrical installation at the Sun Lumber Co., Berth 128, Port of Los Angeles, was struck by lightning about 12:47 p.m., causing an explosion. Six companies of firemen and two fireboats raced to the scene, but found no flames upon arrival.

Other bolts ignited grass at the Navy's San Pedro Fuel Depot, west of the Union Oil Co. refinery, and were blamed for a grass fire near Figueroa and "B" streets, Wilmington. Both fires were

In a token display of matching military might of the world's two superpowers, U.S. Navy patrol planes criss-cross over a Soviet guided missile destroyer of the Kildin class Friday. # Spock Vows 'Redoubled' Fight for End of War

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, Mass. (UPI) — Dr. Benjamin Spock said Friday the reversal of his conviction on antidraft conspiracy charges would make him "redouble his efforts to free hundreds of young people still in jail" for protesting the Vietnam war and the draft.

The U.S. 1st Circuit Court of Appeals Friday freed Spock, 66, and Michael Ferber, 24-year-old Harvard graduate student from Buffalo, N.Y., but ordered new trials for Mitchell Goodman, 45, author and teacher from New York and Temple, Me., and the Rev. William Sloane Coffin Jr., 45, chaplain Yale University.

"I am happy about myself," Spock said from the home of a friend on Martha's Vineyard, a resort island off Cape Cod. "But I am thinking about Goodman and Coffin and particularly about the hundreds of young men still in jail. I have to redouble my efforts to get these young men out of jail."

"Of course, the greatest tragedy of all is that the Vietnam war is still going on with thousands of Americans being killed

Senate OKs Migrants' Classrooms

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — A bill authorizing the state to buy $10 million in mobile classrooms for migrant agricultural workers' children was passed 25-0 Friday by the Senate.

The measure by Sen. William E. Coombs, R-Rialto, was sent to the Assembly without debate.

Coombs said the state allocation board would purchase the trailer classrooms and rent them to school districts for use by the migrant children.

He said the money was authorized by voters in 1966, but said the bonds have not yet been sold. However, Coombs said trailer dealers indicate they will take the bonds as payment.

The lawmaker said the board will then collect rent from the schools and buy back the bonds at the rate of interest authorized by the constitution.

Winnie Ruth Judd Extradition Stalled

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Gov. Ronald Reagan Friday temporarily rejected Arizona's request for extradition of 1931 trunk murderer Winnie Ruth Judd for "technical and legal" reasons.

She is in jail at Martinez.

Mrs. Judd, 65, was recently recaptured in Danville, where she had assumed the alias Marian Lane and was working as a babysitter and maid. She escaped seven years ago from an Arizona mental institution.

In 1931 she murdered her two female roommates, jammed their dismembered bodies into trunks, then shipped them to Los Angeles.

A Reagan spokesman said an extradition hearing would have to wait the submission of new papers by the Arizona attorney general.

In Arizona, a spokesman for Gov. Jack Williams said the request would be sent back to the Maricopa County attorney's office, where it originated. He said the entire extradition procedure would have to be started over again.

In San Francisco, Mrs. Judd's attorney, Melvin Belli, said he had been told Arizona's papers were returned because they were incomplete.

Nerve Gas Tests Being Conducted at 3 Army Bases

Weapons Tried in Open Air

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee said Friday a Pentagon report reveals that the Army is conducting open-air tests of lethal nerve gas at three widely scattered posts. Chairman Henry S. Reuss said the information was declassified by the Army at the subcommittee's request.

The military also unveiled the extent and nature of its program in documents supplied to a House government operations subcommittee.

In addition to the Dugway Proving Ground in Utah, where about 5,000 sheep were accidentally killed last year by nerve gas, the deadly gases are being tested at the Edgewood Arsenal in Maryland and at Ft. McClellan, Ala.

The gases include Tabun, Sarin, Soman, VX — which was responsible for the sheep kill — and mustard, according to the Army documents.

THE GASES are packed in bomblets, landmines, mortars, artillery shells and rockets.

The documents are the first admission that open air gas testings have been conducted at locations outside Dugway, subcommittee sources said.

They are also the first indication of the extent of the tests, according to the sources.

Brig. John G. Appel, commander of Desert Test Center which administers Dugway, said last Dec. 6 he didn't believe Army nerve gas caused the deaths of the sheep but he added that aerial testing had been stopped.

The Army said it tested 67 different gas weapons at Dugway and 47 at Ft. McClellan between April and June of this year. About 110 were to be tested either in the same three-month period or during the first quarter of the current fiscal year at Edgewood.

The open air tests at Ft. McClellan were limited to decontamination and detection exercises, the documents said. The Army said

'BRUTAL TREATMENT'

Arkansas Prison Officials Indicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal grand jury Friday indicted 15 employees and trustees at three Arkansas penal institutions on charges of beating and otherwise punishing prisoners, the Justice Department announced.

Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said they were accused in a total of 46 indictments returned by a federal grand jury in Little Rock. A total of 19 counts were returned against a former prison official.

The indictments came after a long investigation that focused on accusations of brutality at the Arkansas State Penitentiary and two county penal farms.

The alleged incidents covered a four-year period. The 15 were charged with imposing summary punishment on the prisoners while acting under the color of authority in violation of the constitutional rights of convicts.

The alleged beatings occurred, the indictments said, at the Tucker and Cummins units of the Arkansas State Penitentiary, the Mississippi County penal farm and the Pulaski County penal farm.

800 GIs Quit S. Viet Sunday

SAIGON, Saturday (AP) — Another battalion of the U.S. 9th Infantry Division will leave South Vietnam Sunday under the scheduled withdrawal of 25,000 American troops by the end of August, the U.S. military said.

SAIGON, Saturday (UPI) — Communists shelled the U.S. 9th Infantry Division's headquarters early today in an attack that coincided with an announcement of withdrawal of another of the division's battalions from South Vietnam. Military spokesmen said there were no casualties in the two mortar barrages against the headquarters camp at Dong Tam, 37 miles southwest of Saigon. U.S. Command announced today.

The unit is the 4th Battalion, 47th Infantry, made up of "800-men plus." It will leave by air from Bien Hoa, north of Saigon, for deactivation at Ft. Lewis, Wash., the command said.

The 9th Division's 3rd Battalion, 60th Infantry, left Saigon last Tuesday, the first unit to pull out, and already has arrived in the United States. The 9th Division is based in the Mekong Delta, south of Saigon.

Also being moved out in the first withdrawals is the 9th Marine Regiment, stationed in the northern part of the country.

Command spokesmen said the 9th Division contingent leaving Sunday has been in South Vietnam since Dec. 19, 1966, and "since that time has distinguished itself in three major campaigns."

The 47th Infantry soldiers of the 9th Division's 2nd Brigade were among those who received South Vietnam's highest combat award for valor, the Gallantry Cross with Palm. The soldiers of the mobile riverine force also received last week the presidential unit citation for their actions during the Tet fighting in 1968.

Worst Air Crash Plane Overloaded

Combined News Services

CARACAS — Preliminary investigation of the worst crash in aviation history at Maracaibo last March indicated Friday that the ill-fated Venezuelan liner carried 5,000 pounds in excess weight. The plane crash killed 153 persons, 84 passengers and crew, and 71 on the ground. The investigating committee reported another factor in the crash of the Viasa Airlines' DC-9 was "a delay in achieving rotation speed and in consequence speed for liftoff." The report pointed out that it had not yet been determined if a mechanical failure caused the disaster.

The report noted that the plane took off with over-all weight of 100,112 pounds, 5,000 more than permissible for that type of plane at Maracaibo. The plane, on route from Caracas to Miami, struck several power lines, a transformer and a power line pole and fell into a row of houses in a densely populated district.

Red Military Maneuvers End

MOSCOW — Soviet, Polish and East German forces, ended eight days of military maneuvers in Poland Friday, the Soviet news agency, Tass, announced. The exercises, under the armed forces command of the Warsaw Pact, were directed by Soviet Gen. Sergei Shtemenko, Tass said. "The exercises promoted further strengthening of friendship among the fraternal armies," it added.

Cold Takes Toll in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO — Residents of this normally warm city shivered in 55-degree temperatures Friday as winter finally arrived. To the south, there was snow in some areas. Lambs were dying to the south while half the coffee crop was destroyed by frost in the state of Parana. Porto Alegre and Sao Paulo reported sales of alcoholic beverages up 50 per cent while sales of blankets jumped 25 per cent.

Turkey Troop Pullout Complete

ANKARA — One thousand U.S. military personnel and dependents have been withdrawn from Turkey since March, American Embassy officials reported Friday. The withdrawal, a part of a program to cut down dollar spending abroad, was completed June 30. Earlier this week, President Nixon ordered a cutback of nearly 15,000 U.S. military men in the next year from overseas bases, except Vietnam or other trouble spots.

Egypt, Israel Exchange Blame

AMMAN — Egypt and Israel blamed each other Friday for the breakdown of the U.N. cease-fire along the Suez Canal, and Israel vowed to take "appropriate self defense measures." The two nations swapped charges in replies to an appeal by Secretary-General U Thant for an end to fighting in the Middle East. Thant said in his report this week to the Security Council that open warfare now existed along the 103-mile waterway. In London, Britain's minister of state for foreign affairs, Goronwy Roberts, warned envoys of Israel and Egypt to stop setting brush fires along the canal, lest they ignite a full-scale war.

CONG CALLS VOTE OFFER 'TRICK'

PARIS — The Viet Cong's Provisional Revolutionary Government — PRG — rejected the Saigon government's invitation Friday to take part in elections, calling the offer a new trick. A communique issued by the PRG delegation to the Paris peace talks termed South Vietnamese President Nguyen

Van Thieu's proposal an attempt to "appease world and American public opinion." The Communist side did not go into details of why it found Thieu's six-point election offer unacceptable. But it renewed a demand that the Saigon regime be replaced by a provisional coalition government before any elections are conducted.

SBA Negro 'Tired of Fighting,' Quits

Combined News Services

The director of the Small Business Administration's minority enterprise program resigned Friday and denounced the Nixon Administration's handling of black capitalism. "It's enough to make you want to cry," said Philip Pruitt in an interview shortly before telling staff aides of his resignation. "I'm tired, tired of fighting."

Pruitt, a Negro, stepped down as assistant administrator — a post he has held for four months — in a letter to SBA Administrator Hillary Sandoval Jr. Pruitt, 32, said he plans to return to Wall Street, where he had been an investment banker. He denied that Nixon administration handling of voting rights and school desegregation was a factor in his decision but said: "That bothers every black person in the United States."

Pruitt said his main concern was with his attempts to operate the minority enterprise program. "They haven't given the administrator Sandoval a chance. The guy is really genuine. They just beat us down. The President should be committed to black capitalism and minority enterprise and I think he is but I think that someone's telling him the wrong things," Pruitt said softly as he slumped in a chair, seemingly exhausted.

Pruitt said he is leaving despite administration efforts to persuade him to stay in government in another role — possibly on the White House staff. Sandoval in a statement issued later Friday, said he accepted Pruitt's resignation with sincere regret.

JOB OFFER

Lyn Nofziger, former press secretary to Gov. Reagan, may soon join President Nixon's staff. Nofziger, now operating a Sacramento political public relations firm, has been tentatively offered a job as assistant to Nixon's congressional lobbyist, Bryce Harlow, but a final offer hasn't been made, California political sources said Friday.

NIXON PROUD OF CADDY

President Nixon and Secretary of State William P. Rogers took time out Friday to greet a tall Negro youth leader, who was their golf caddy during the Eisenhower administration. The meeting in the President's office came about as the result of a letter the former golf caddy, Howard K. Bell, wrote to the President about how he had overcome "the agony of poverty" and had risen to a job with the District of Columbia Recreation Department and has just a semester to go to get a college degree.

Young Bell recalled the time a little more than 10 years ago when he last met the President and Rogers, caddying for them at Burning Tree golf course when Nixon was vice president.

Nixon congratulated his former caddy on his achievements and gave him a presidential golf ball as a souvenir. When he got the letter from Bell, which the White House made public Friday, Nixon said he is proud that the young man had returned to work with youths whose lives were similar to his own early years "and that you are dedicated to giving them help along the difficult road of life. They sorely need the inspiration and the example that you are able to give them."

LBJ WILL ATTEND BLASTOFF

President Nixon telephoned former President Lyndon B. Johnson Friday inviting him to watch the Apollo 11 launch at Cape Kennedy, Fla., next Wednesday. Johnson accepted. Nixon and his predecessor in the White House chatted about 15 minutes "on a wide range of subjects," according to White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler. Johnson, long identified with the space program as Senate Democratic leader, vice president and President, was offered use of a military jet to fly to Florida for the launch. Nixon will remain at the White House on Wednesday, watching the start of the moon mission on television. He plans to be aboard the carrier which will pick up the astronauts on their return to Earth.

DATED CANTEEN

As a prisoner of the Japanese in World War II, Jack Bender inscribed on his drinking canteen in 1942 the names and dates of the many camps in which he was held. Freed in 1945, Bender misplaced the battered canteen on the flight home. An American spotted it recently in a Casablanca flea market and sent it to U.S. authorities at Morocco, who traced Bender through Navy files. In a Navy ceremony Thursday in San Diego, the old canteen with its notations still readable was returned to Bender, now 56.

BROWN UPSET

Soul singer James Brown, stormed out of Los Angeles city hall in a huff after he had arrived to receive a scroll from Mayor Sam Yorty and the mayor wasn't there. Yorty's aides explained that the singer's public relations man had been told in advance that the mayor had a prior appointment and that the presentation would be made by a deputy mayor. The mayor later issued a statement of regret about the mixup. He said he considered Brown an outstanding entertainer who had made a great contribution to young people and the disadvantaged.

GEN. LEMNITZER

Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, former supreme U.S. and Allied commander in Europe, received from President Nixon Friday an unprecedented award — Distinguished Service Medal of the Army, Navy and Air Force. Speaking at a ceremony in the White House rose garden, Nixon said it is the first time a soldier who had served so well in so many capacities received all three at the same time. The general said he was overwhelmed and lacking words to describe his feelings after Nixon pinned the medals on his chest.

SINGER HAMILTON STRICKEN

Recording star Roy Hamilton, was in "critical" condition and unconscious in the extensive care unit of New Rochelle Hospital Friday after suffering a stroke. A spokesman for the hospital said Hamilton was taken to the hospital from his home in New Rochelle, N.Y. The spokesman said it was too early to determine if Hamilton's speech or singing would be affected. Hamilton first came into the limelight with a top selling version of "Ebb Tide." Other Hamilton records include "You'll Never Walk Alone," "Don't Let Go," and "You Can Have Her."

HUEY'S BROTHER

Merritt College named Melvin Newton, national finance chairman of the Black Panther Party, as head of Afro-American studies Friday. Newton, 31, is the brother of Black Panther leader Huey P. Newton, convicted last year of manslaughter in the slaying of a white Oakland police officer and now serving a 2 to 15 year term in the state Men's Colony at San Luis Obispo.

MBOYA RITES

Tom Mboya, Kenya's young political leader assassinated six days ago, was buried Friday in a blend of ancient tribal rites and modern Catholic ceremonies. In a clan burial ground in Lake Victoria, thousands of Luo tribesmen, Mboya's political friends and enemies and his family paid final respects to the 38-year-old politician who had been considered a successor to President Jomo Kenyatta.

Worst Air Crash Plane Overloaded

Combined News Services

CARACAS — Preliminary investigation of the worst crash in aviation history at Maracaibo last March indicated Friday that the ill-fated Venezuelan liner carried 5,000 pounds in excess weight. The plane crash killed 155 persons, 84 passengers and crew, and 71 on the ground. The investigating committee reported another factor in the crash of the Viasa Airlines' DC-9 was "a delay in achieving rotation speed and in consequence speed for liftoff." The report pointed out that it had not yet been determined if a mechanical failure caused the disaster.

The report noted that the plane took off with over-all weight of 100,112 pounds, 5,000 more than permissible for that type of plane at Maracaibo. The plane, on route from Caracas to Miami, struck several power lines, a transformer and a power line pole and fell into a row of houses in a densely populated district.

Red Military Maneuvers End

MOSCOW — Soviet, Polish and East German forces, ended eight days of military maneuvers in Poland Friday, the Soviet news agency, Tass, announced. The exercises, under the armed forces command of the Warsaw Pact, were directed by Soviet Gen. Sergei Shtemenko, Tass said. "The exercises promoted further strengthening of friendship among the fraternal armies," it added.

Cold Takes Toll in Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO — Residents of this normally warm city shivered in 55-degree temperatures Friday as winter finally arrived. To the south, there was snow in some areas. Lambs were dying to the south while half the coffee crop was destroyed by frost in the state of Parana. Porto Alegre and Sao Paulo reported sales of alcoholic beverages up 50 per cent while sales of blankets jumped 25 per cent.

Turkey Troop Pullout Complete

ANKARA — One thousand U.S. military personnel and dependents have been withdrawn from Turkey since March, American Embassy officials reported Friday. The withdrawal, a part of a program to cut down dollar spending abroad, was completed June 30. Earlier this week, President Nixon ordered a cutback of nearly 15,000 U.S. military men in the next year from overseas bases, except Vietnam or other trouble spots.

Egypt, Israel Exchange Blame

AMMAN — Egypt and Israel blamed each other Friday for the breakdown of the U.N. cease-fire along the Suez Canal, and Israel vowed to take "appropriate self defense measures." The two nations swapped charges in replies to an appeal by Secretary-General U Thant for an end to fighting in the Middle East. Thant said in his report this week to the Security Council that open warfare now existed along the 103-mile waterway. In London, Britain's minister of state for foreign affairs, Goronwy Roberts, warned envoys of Israel and Egypt to stop setting brush fires along the canal, lest they ignite a full-scale war.

CONG CALLS VOTE OFFER 'TRICK'

Ask Detention Rule for Key Offenders

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration proposed Friday that federal courts be allowed to hold potentially dangerous persons in jail without bond for up to 60 days while awaiting trial. Among those who could be held without bail would be repeat offenders charged with at least two crimes of violence, anyone who threatens witnesses or jurors, persons accused of "dangerous crimes" such as bank robbery and sale of narcotics, and narcotics addicts charged with a crime of violence. Under present federal law, only persons accused of capital crimes such as murder may be held without bail. Defendants in other cases may be held without bond if the government can show they probably would not appear for trial if released.

FTC Urges Cigarette Ad Ban

WASHINGTON — The Federal Trade Commission urged Congress Friday to outlaw cigarette advertising on radio and television and to require programs and announcements on the hazards of smoking. Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, released the FTC report and said it underscored "the ineffectiveness of present cigarette advertising and labeling restraints." Moss, chairman of a Senate consumers subcommittee, noted the code board of the National Association of Broadcasters, has recommended phasing out cigarette commercials over the next four years.

Moon Walkers Physically Fit

Prod Russ on Arms-Curb Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State William P. Rogers, responding to a speech by Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, politely prodded Russia Friday for an agreement on starting talks for curbing nuclear missiles. In a statement Rogers said that a speech delivered to the Supreme Soviet parliament in Moscow Thursday "seems to be positive in tone regarding relations with the United States."

Mustangs, Cougars Recalled

DEARBORN — Ford Motor Co. Friday recalled 9,800 Mustangs and 13,300 Cougars to find between 73 and 145 new cars which may have incorrect front wheel assembly parts. Ford officials said Friday there was a possibility front wheels might come off certain Mustangs and Cougars in which incorrect disc brake rotor assemblies might have been made.

Iowa Water Supply Held Safe

WATERLOO — The municipal water supply in this northeast Iowa city of 77,000 was declared safe late Friday after a leaking main earlier Friday had allowed contaminated water into system due to flooding.

Earlier reports indicated it might take several days to clean up the water system, and residents had been instructed to boil cooking and drinking water.

Van Thieu's proposal an attempt to "appease world and American public opinion." The Communist side did not go into details of why it found Thieu's six-point election offer unacceptable. But it renewed a demand that the Saigon regime be replaced by a provisional coalition government before any elections are conducted.

SBA Negro 'Tired of Fighting,' Quits

Combined News Services

The director of the Small Business Administration's minority enterprise program resigned Friday and denounced the Nixon Administration's handling of black capitalism. "It's enough to make you want to cry," said Philip Pruitt in an interview shortly before telling staff aides of his resignation. "I'm tired, tired of fighting."

Pruitt, a Negro, stepped down as assistant administrator — a post he has held for four months — in a letter to SBA Administrator Hillary Sandoval Jr. Pruitt, 32, said he plans to return to Wall Street, where he had been an investment banker. He denied that Nixon administration handling of voting rights and school desegregation was a factor in his decision but said: "That bothers every black person in the United States."

Pruitt said his main concern was with his attempts to operate the minority enterprise program. "They haven't given the administrator Sandoval a chance. The guy is really genuine. # School Tax Authority Delayed

From Our State Bureau

SACRAMENTO — The Assembly Friday approved legislation delaying for two years the authority of school boards to set tax rates without voter approval.

The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Robert H. Burke, R-Huntington Beach. It received a 44-5 vote in the Assembly, and now goes to the Senate.

Under legislation enacted in 1967, school district governing boards were given "prime and direct responsibility for the development of budget and expenditure programs, together with full authority to fix tax rates which they deem necessary to support the educational programs of the district."

The boards would have assumed the tax-rate fixing authority on July 1, 1971. Under Burke's bill, they will not assume the responsibility until July 1, 1973.

BURKE'S BILL also states that since "the concept of school property tax control by means of tax rate limits has failed to control either school expenditures or school tax rates," it is the intent of the legislature to develop a method of limiting taxes "by placing controls on (school) expenditures."

The legislative analyst was directed to "develop a plan to establish control over school districts' use of the property tax, using an expenditure limitation or such other method as he may recommend."

The analyst was directed to have the plan ready for consideration during the 1970 legislative session.

An Assembly education subcommittee had recommended rejection of the bill, but the full committee overruled the recommendation and gave its approval. The bill also cleared the Ways and Means Committee after considerable debate.

"THE VOTERS have won a two-year reprieve," Burke said, "while we evaluate other methods (of effecting) the economics and controls the people are demanding."

"The tax paying public must be assured of retention of their rightful voice in all school finance matters."

Passage of Burke's bill by the Assembly was considered significant because a Senate-sponsored bill, which would have repealed altogether the section giving school boards the authority to set tax rates, was defeated in the Assembly Education Committee.

The Senate bill, by Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, had passed the upper house, indicating that Burke's more moderate measure will be approved there and go to the governor.

Election Liquor Sale Ban Ended

From Our State Bureau

SACRAMENTO — A bill repealing the ban on selling alcoholic beverages on election day was sent to Gov. Reagan Friday following State Senate approval by a vote of 22-5.

EMERGENCY PHONE NUMBER UNDER TEST

An experiment to use 911 as an emergency telephone number for fire, police and ambulance calls in a test area of Los Angeles County was announced Friday.

A report by Lindon S. Hollinger, county chief administrative officer said the initial stages of the trial would be followed on a small area.

The area to be used was not listed nor was the date the system would first be tried.

The 911 number was established by the Federal Communications Commission on Jan. 12, 1968 as a suggestion for a nationwide number that could be used by anyone requesting help in the United States.

Although New York City and several smaller cities are using the 911 number, the amount of emergency agencies in Los Angeles County has prevented its immediate adoption.

COLD AS MOLASSES IN JULY — AND ALL OVER THE FREEWAY

There was more than unseasonal rain covering a Long Beach area roadway Friday. This big truck and double trailer veered out of control on the northbound Long Beach Freeway about 10:30 a.m., flipping one of its trailers and spewing molasses all over four lanes of high-speed thoroughfare. Driver Zane Gray Dollings, 42, of Corcoran, Calif., was uninjured in the mishap and wasn't cited. The accident occurred near the Willow Street offramp and made passing a sticky matter for hours.

UC Guest Lecturer Rule Eased

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California Regents voted overwhelmingly Friday to ease the strict limit on guest lecturers adopted last fall when Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver was chief speaker at an experimental course on racial relations.

Gov. Ronald Reagan voted with the majority after succeeding in a move to alter the language so that it would not be retroactive.

SAN FRANCISCO — Chancellor Roger W. Heyns was granted a three-month vacation Friday from the University of California's Berkeley campus. UC President Charles J. Hitch, announcing the decision by the Board of Regents, said, "I am delighted to be able to tell you that Roger Heyns has decided to remain as chancellor of the Berkeley campus."

CLEAVER, a fugitive parole violator in Cuba, lectured 10 times at the Berkeley campus last fall.

The regents limited guest lecturers to one appearance in any course given for credit, and no credit therefore was allowed for the Cleaver program.

Friday's action in effect abolished the one-lecture rule.

PRESIDENT Charles J. Hitch of the university system, who proposed the modification, said it still leaves the university with the strictest regulation on guest lecturers of any university in the United States.

The new rule holds department chairman accountable for appointing guest lecturers.

The Regents also voted unanimously for stricter regulation of experimental courses at Berkeley and UCLA.

A 'Little Pressure' Reopens Speech Class

By RALPH HINMAN JR. Education Editor

With round-eyed solemnity — and a rare giggle — a "pressure group" from Richmond confronted the state Board of Education in Los Angeles Friday.

In almost uncanny silence a dozen three-to-six-year-olds — boys and girls, blacks and whites — sat tightly knit, listening uncomprehendingly to distinguished witnesses pleading their case.

At stake was $70,000 — peanuts in an educational world where talk of millions of dollars is voiced freely.

At stake was their future — all came from Richmond's new, successful but financially-plagued Knolls Speech and Language Therapy Center.

California's quota was cut in Washington from $6.5 million to $2.3 million.

Somewhere within the vast state Department of Education a reallocation was made: Knoll would lose its $70,000 despite a prior promise, the money would be available for 1969-70.

"It is a ghastly mistake," a local newspaper editorialized.

Community leaders agreed, fought back. Parents and civic groups formed to seek funds for the school, cooperatively operated under general supervision of the Richmond school system, itself in a grave financial crisis.

Early this summer a review committee in Sacramento opined that the cut-off should be reversed. But the final authority, the only body capable of reinstating the lost allocation, was the state board.

THESE DETAILS emerged Friday as Knoll advocates State Sen. John A. Nejedly, Assemblyman John T. Knox and center supervisor Laura Blithen, among others, marshaled supporting facts and figures.

The final result was almost preordained.

"I'm in favor of funding proven projects," said member Dorman Commons. His colleagues unanimously agreed.

Knoll gets its critical $70,000 — and another year's life.

'People's Park' Death Ruled to Be Justifiable

OAKLAND (AP) — The death of James Rector, 25, who was fatally injured May 15 in a "People's Park" riot in Berkeley, was "justifiable homicide by an unidentified sheriff's deputy," a coroner's jury ruled Friday.

Rector, a San Jose man with two previous burglary convictions, died three days after being hit in the heart with buckshot. At the time he was on a rooftop from which police said dissidents were throwing objects at officers.

RECTOR was not a University of California student.

The jury of six men and one woman returned the verdict after 35 minutes of deliberations.

The coroner's inquest heard two days of testimony, including a statement from Alameda County deputy sheriff Leonard N. Johnson Jr. that he may have been the one whose shotgun blast hit Rector.

Johnson said he saw three people on the rooftop where Rector was said to be standing.

"One of them reared back his arm to throw and I fired," said Johnson, an 18-year veteran of the force. He said he did not see the result of the firing.

THREE PERSONS, including two utility company employees, said a volley of rocks rained down on officers before the shooting.

Eight other civilian witnesses testified that those on the rooftops were peaceful except for one unidentified man who threw a rock despite warnings not to.

Mike Meo, 26, who said he was standing near Rector when the slain youth was struck, said Rector had been sitting quietly on a fire escape.

10 Doctors Picket at Cedars

Ten doctors joined about 30 nurses picketing Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in the rain Friday.

The Los Angeles Medical Committee for Human Rights and the Physicians for Social Responsibility had promised to march in the picket lines if the month-old nurses' strike was not settled by 1 p.m.

Talks between the nurses and Cedars broke off after administrators agreed to recognize the California Nurses Association as the nurses' bargaining agent except on economic issues.

Abe Levy, CNA attorney, said the talks were still stalemated and no resumption of negotiations was scheduled.

He added, however, "We're ready to talk whenever they are."

School Tax Authority Delayed

From Our State Bureau
SACRAMENTO — The Assembly Friday approved legislation delaying for two years the authority of school boards to set tax rates without voter approval.

The measure was introduced by Assemblyman Robert H. Burke, R-Huntington Beach. It received a 44-5 vote in the Assembly, and now goes to the Senate.

Under legislation enacted in 1967, school district governing boards were given "prime and direct responsibility for the development of budget and expenditure programs, together with full authority to fix tax rates which they deem necessary to support the educational programs of the district."

The boards would have assumed the tax-rate fixing authority on July 1, 1971. Under Burke's bill, they will not assume the responsibility until July 1, 1973.

BURKE'S BILL also states that since "the concept of school property tax control by means of tax rate limits has failed to control either school expenditures or school tax rates," it is the intent of the legislature to develop a method of limiting taxes "by placing controls on (school) expenditures."

The legislative analyst was directed to "develop a plan to establish control over school districts' use of the property tax, using an expenditure limitation or such other method as he may recommend."

The analyst was directed to have the plan ready for consideration during the 1970 legislative session.

An Assembly education subcommittee had recommended rejection of the bill, but the full committee overruled the recommendation and gave its approval. The bill also cleared the Ways and Means Committee after considerable debate.

"THE VOTERS have won a two-year reprieve," Burke said, "while we evaluate other methods (of effecting) the economies and controls the people are demanding."

"The tax paying public must be assured of retention of their rightful voice in all school finance matters."

Passage of Burke's bill by the Assembly was considered significant because a Senate-sponsored bill, which would have repealed altogether the section giving school boards the authority to set tax rates, was defeated in the Assembly Education Committee.

The Senate bill, by Sen. John G. Schmitz, R-Tustin, had passed the upper house, indicating that Burke's more moderate measure will be approved there and go to the governor.

Election Liquor Sale Ban Ended

From Our State Bureau
SACRAMENTO — A bill repealing the ban on selling alcoholic beverages on election day was sent to Gov. Reagan Friday following State Senate approval by a vote of 22-5.

EMERGENCY PHONE NUMBER UNDER TEST

An experiment to use 911 as an emergency telephone number for fire, police and ambulance calls in a test area of Los Angeles County was announced Friday.

A report by Lindon S. Hollinger, county chief administrative officer said the initial stages of the trial would be followed on a small area.

The area to be used was not listed nor was the date the system would first be tried.

COLD AS MOLASSES IN JULY — AND ALL OVER THE FREEWAY

There was more than unseasonal rain covering a Long Beach area roadway Friday. This big truck and double trailer veered out of control on the northbound Long Beach Freeway about 10:30 a.m., flipping one of its trailers and spewing molasses all over four lanes of high-speed thoroughfare. Driver Zane Gray Dollings, 42, of Corcoran, Calif., was uninjured in the mishap and wasn't cited. The accident occurred near the Willow Street offramp and made passing a sticky matter for hours.

UC Guest Lecturer Rule Eased

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — University of California Regents voted overwhelmingly Friday to ease the strict limit on guest lecturers adopted last fall when Black Panther Eldridge Cleaver was chief speaker at an experimental course on racial relations.

Gov. Ronald Reagan voted with the majority after succeeding in a move to alter the language so that it would not be retroactive.

SAN FRANCISCO — Chancellor Roger W. Heyns was granted a three-month vacation Friday from the University of California's Berkeley campus. UC President Charles J. Hitch, announcing the decision by the Board of Regents, said, "I am delighted to be able to tell you that Roger Heyns has decided to remain as chancellor of the Berkeley campus."

CLEAVER, a fugitive parole violator in Cuba, lectured 10 times at the Berkeley campus last fall.

The regents limited guest lecturers to one appearance in any course given for credit, and no credit therefore was allowed for the Cleaver program.

Friday's action in effect abolished the one-lecture rule.

PRESIDENT Charles J. Hitch of the university system, who proposed the modification, said it still leaves the university with the strictest regulation on guest lecturers of any university in the United States.

The new rule holds department chairman accountable for appointing guest lecturers.

The Regents also voted unanimously for stricter regulation of experimental courses at Berkeley and UCLA.

A 'Little Pressure' Reopens Speech Class

By RALPH HINMAN JR., Education Editor

With round-eyed solemnity — and a rare giggle — a "pressure group" from Richmond confronted the state Board of Education in Los Angeles Friday.

In almost uncanny silence a dozen three-to-six-year-olds — boys and girls, blacks and whites — sat tightly knit, listening uncomprehendingly to distinguished witnesses pleading their case.

At stake was $70,000 — peanuts in an educational world where talk of millions of dollars is voiced freely.

At stake was their future — all came from Richmond's new, successful but financially-plagued Knolls Speech and Language Therapy Center.

FOUNDED LAST year, the center, where 100-plus pre-schoolers who can't speak are being taught this basic skill, depends largely on state allocations of federal funds. And is the coming year California's quota was cut in Washington from $6.5 million to $2.3 million.

Somewhere within the vast state Department of Education a reallocation was made: Knoll would lose its $70,000 despite a prior promise the money would be available for 1969-70.

"It is a ghastly mistake," a local newspaper editorialized.

Community leaders agreed, fought back. Parents and civic groups formed to seek funds for the school, cooperatively operated under general supervision of the Richmond school system, itself in a grave financial crisis.

Early this summer a review committee in Sacramento opined that the cut-off should be reversed. But the final authority, the only body capable of reinstating the lost allocation, was the state board.

THESE DETAILS emerged Friday as Knoll advocates State Sen. John A. Nejedly, Assemblyman John T. Knox and center supervisor Laura Blethen, among others, marshaled supporting facts and figures.

The final result was almost preordained.

"I'm in favor of funding proven projects," said member Dorman Commons. His colleagues unanimously agreed:

Knoll gets its critical $70,000 — and another year's life.

'People's Park' Death Ruled to Be Justifiable

OAKLAND (AP) — The death of James Rector, 25, who was fatally injured May 15 in a "People's Park" riot in Berkeley, was "justifiable homicide" by an unidentified sheriff's deputy, a coroner's jury ruled Friday.

Rector, a San Jose man with two previous burglary convictions, died three days after being hit in the heart with buckshot. At the time he was on a rooftop from which police said dissidents were throwing objects at officers.

RECTOR was not a University of California student.

The jury of six men and one woman returned the verdict after 35 minutes of deliberations.

The coroner's inquest heard two days of testimony, including a statement from Alameda County deputy sheriff Leonard N. Johnson Jr. that he may have been the one whose shotgun blast hit Rector.

Johnson said he saw three people on the rooftop where Rector was said to be standing.

"One of them reared back his arm to throw and I fired," said Johnson, an 18-year veteran of the force. He said he did not see the result of the firing.

THREE PERSONS, including two utility company employees, said a volley of rocks rained down on officers before the shooting.

Eight other civilian witnesses testified that those on the rooftops were peaceful except for one unidentified man who threw a rock despite warnings not to.

Mike Meo, 26, who said he was standing near Rector when the slain youth was struck, said Rector had been sitting quietly on a fire escape.

10 Doctors Picket at Cedars

Ten doctors joined about 30 nurses picketing Cedars of Lebanon Hospital in the rain Friday.

The Los Angeles Medical Committee for Human Rights and the Physicians for Social Responsibility had promised to march in the picket lines if the month-old nurses' strike was not settled by 1 p.m.

Talks between the nurses and Cedars broke off after administrators agreed to recognize the California Nurses Association as the nurses' bargaining agent except on economic issues.

Abe Levy, CNA attorney, said the talks were still stalemated and no resumption of negotiations was scheduled.

NIXON FLIES TO RETREAT IN MARYLAND

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flew to Camp David Friday evening for a 24-hour stay at the presidential retreat in the Catoctin Mountains of Maryland.

Nixon was accompanied by his long-time Florida friend, C. G. (Bebe) Rebozo, who flew here from his Key Biscayne home to join the President. H. R. Haldeman, special assistant to the President, went along, too.

Mrs. Nixon, and the Nixon daughters, Tricia and Julie, spent Friday in New York shopping and getting fittings for new fall clothes and did not return in time to accompany the President.

Nixon plans to return to the White House late today.

that portions of mustard gas and two types of nerve gas are poured on a surface for training purposes.

An information officer at Ft. McClellan issued this statement:

"Any statement that open air testing is conducted at Ft. McClellan is in error. Small amounts of lethal chemical agents only — no biologicals — are used in defensive training exercises to train personnel in decontamination, detection and explosive ordnance demolition procedures. As an example a toxic chemical agent such as mustard would be poured on an empty artillery shell and the EOD team undergoing training would be directed to decontaminate the shell. There has been no open air biological testing since Oct. 1967. There has never been open air biological testing at Ft. McClellan."

THE ARMY SAID it will have tested 358 additional devices at Dugway and 129 at Edgewood during the next three months — a marked rise over the testings for the last quarter of fiscal 1969.

The weapons contain gas ranging in amount from a few grams to about 10 pounds.

Reuss said the Army is continuing to classify and withhold certain information. He said this included the type, nature, quantity, height of release and similar data on chemical munitions under development.

The reason given for continued classification, he said, is that the Army believes such information might enable potential enemies to devise defensive systems or techniques.

"However, I am gratified that the Army has recognized the public interest by revealing the general extent of open air testing of poisonous compounds," he said.

"This is a commendable first step toward an informed and responsible public decision on whether and how much we should permit use of our great common resource — the air — for testing poison gases," Reuss said.

"I WILL URGE the Army to continue to let the public know in advance what its test plans are."

Reuss' subcommittee held hearings May 20 and 21 on the open air testings. He and other members of the subcommittee were critical of what they termed the military's lack of candor and secrecy on the subject. The subcommittee requested the Army to supply information on all open air tests on a regular basis.

quickly extinguished by heavy rain.

Lightning knocked out electricity in sections of Long Beach, Bellflower, Compton, Downey and at the Firestone Park Sheriff's Station, where deputies had to turn on auxiliary power so law enforcement operations there could proceed normally.

Two buildings in the Willowbrook area were struck by lightning, but little damage was reported.

Airline service at Los Angeles International Airport was interrupted more than a half-hour after lightning strikes reportedly knocked out power. Western Airlines reported slight delays for 10 flights.

Most airlines used auxiliary power to start airplane engines. Refueling operations requiring outside power caused most of the delays.

Air traffic at Orange County Airport was unhindered, however.

Commuters in some Los Angeles-area business districts complained of having been caught in elevators during power failures.

Lightning also touched off a 20-acre grass fire in the Highland Park area of Los Angeles. The blaze was controlled within a half-hour by firemen using helicopters to make water drops onto burning foliage.

Weathermen said the storm caused a 10-degree drop in the area's average temperature within two hours — from about 78 to 68 degrees between 1:20 and 3:20 p.m.

Forecasts for this weekend call for generally fair weather accompanied by some variable cloudiness.

Patchy late night and early morning fog is expected for coastal areas.

McCarthy Challenges ABM Need

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., says Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is projecting military programs on what potential enemies might do, rather than on what intelligence information indicates they are doing.

McCarthy, an unsuccessful bidder for the 1968 Democratic presidential nomination, challenged Laird's contention that the antiballistic missile is needed to offset what Laird has said is a Russian aim to develop a nuclear first-strike capacity against American retaliatory missiles.

McCarthy said in a speech at a City of Hope convention that the United States must shed its militaristic thinking and shake off bureaucratic control of its factories, schools and hospitals to regain individual initiative if it hopes for future peace.

Mountains and deserts will have some scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers, mainly from San Bernardino County southward.

Highs will run from 75 along the coast to near 90 in coastal valleys, 100 in intermediate valleys and high deserts, and up to 110 in lower desert valleys.

Mountain resorts will have high readings near 80 degrees, the Weather Bureau predicted.

COACHELLA VALLEY

Grape Workers Reject Pay Offer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The issue which the farm workers union said would be no problem in talks with table grape growers was the one on which workers rejected the offer of a Coachella Valley grower this week.

The issue was money. Lionel Steinberg, president of David Freedman Co. and also representing Charles Freedman Co., two major grape growers of the valley, said he and the Cesar Chavez led union had come to agreement on all terms of a contract except wages.

STEINBERG said he made an offer to Dolores Huerta, chief AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee negotiator, last week after secret talks apart from those conducted under the auspices of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service.

"My offer was summarily rejected," Steinberg told newsmen.

"It was an excellent offer, made in good faith, and I'm sorry it was refused. It was an opportunity to make labor and agricultural history and I regret that we did not move forward."

STEINBERG said he offered to pay workers $1.75 an hour plus 25 cents a box plus 10 cents an hour for fringe benefits. He said this would be a 20 cent an hour increase in addition to the union recognition which workers have said was the main issue.

Steinberg called the boycott a "harsh and extremely unfair weapon" and said "the Coachella Valley is in serious straits. It appears the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee would rather destroy the growers and the jobs of hundreds of workers rather than make a reasonable settlement."

MRS. HUERTA, said the workers rejected Steinberg's wage offer because it was lower than what they already receive on some other farms in the valley and in the Delano area.

Workers are now paid $1.75 an hour plus 40 cents a box at some ranches, she said. A worker picks about three boxes an hour.

SHE ALSO said Steinberg agreed Tuesday night to the union's demand for $2.00 an hour plus 25 cents a box and later backed down on it. The workers "were exhilarated" Wednesday when they learned of the agreement, she said, and they booed Steinberg Thursday when he told them he had not made the offer.

Steinberg says the incident was a misunderstanding and that he had made no such offer.

From his home in New Haven, Conn., the Rev. Coffin said he was "absolutely delighted." But he added, "I still regard the issues of the constitutionality of the war, of the conduct of the war and of the present laws for conscientious objection were not involved" fully during the month-long trial last year.

The Rev. Coffin added, "The court has upheld the principle that free speech is the right to be most highly prized when its exercise appears most offensive."

Goodman, contacted at his home in Maine, said, "The courts have again refused to confront the central issue. We don't need a court to tell us we are not criminals. We are the victims of a political prosecution begun by a President whom we helped to drive out of office."

"The real criminals," he continued, "are walking the streets of Washington and Texas. When the government begins to listen to its people, we will begin to recover from the terrible sickness of the Vietnam war. For my part, I will go on fighting the political system that created this war with everything I have."

Gunmen Loot Home for $10,000

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Four gun-waving bandits forced their way into the plush Lake Minnetonka home of Bertin C. Gamble, board chairman of Gamble-Skogmo, Inc., tied up Gamble, his wife and two domestic servants and left in the family black limousine Friday.

Hennepin County sheriff's deputies said the robbers took an estimated $600 in cash, jewelry of undetermined value and a large amount of furs. The haul was later estimated at about $10,000.

Research Sub to Drift Deep in Gulf Stream

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Six ocean scientist-engineers headed by Dr. Jacques Piccard hope to begin a four-week expedition deep in the Gulf Stream Monday — two days before three other explorers blast off for a landing on the moon.

Confined inside the new bus-sized research submarine Ben Franklin, Piccard and his international crew plan to plunge into the Gulf Stream off West Palm Beach and drift submerged with the current possibly as far as a point about 200 miles southeast of Boston, Mass.

By coincidence, the drift is expected to place the underwater researchers east of Cape Kennedy on Wednesday, when Apollo 11 astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. plan to thunder away for a quarter-million-mile trip to the moon.

Officials of the Gulf Stream mission say next week's test is planned only as a four- or five-day dress rehearsal of the four-week adventure. However, "if all goes well, the mission will continue for an extended period," said a spokesman for Grumman Aerospace Corp., owner of the Ben Franklin.

"If instrument tests are not completed satisfactorily, the mission will be recycled," he said.

It originally was set to begin early last month, but has been held up by a variety of problems.

Traveling at depths between 300 and 2,000 feet at whatever speed the current propels them, the ocean scientists hope to make the most extensive study yet of the Gulf Stream's depths — producing scientific knowledge useful to submarine warfare, industry and space travelers.

They hope to accumulate the best information yet about a phenomenon known as the "deep scattering layer," a belt of plankton and other marine organisms that reflects sonar signals from ships and confuses sailors with false readings about the sea floor's location.

Using space agency cameras that automatically photograph the crew's movements every two minutes and other instruments that will determine whether people's reflexes change during long periods of confinement, engineers hope to learn more about what life may be like in space stations.

The scientists also will look for marine life and study sound traveling through water, seeking improvements in the Navy's submarine warfare capabilities.

With Piccard, the Swiss engineer who holds the 35,800-foot-deep diving record in the bathyscap Trieste, este, will be Donald J. Kazimir, 35, veteran Navy submariner who now is an employee of Grumman, and Erwin Aebersold, chief pilot and longtime member of Piccard's team.

Conducting scientific experiments for the Navy will be Roswell F. Busby, a specialist in marine geology and underwater survey operations; and Kenneth Haigh, 45, a British navy exchange scientist who now is an acoustics expert with the U.S. naval oceanographic office.

A space agency engineer, Chester B. May, will be on board to study the mission's applications to space stations.

The expedition is being sponsored by Grumman to show the firm's capabilities as a submarine builder. The Navy and the space agency were invited — and accepted — to participate in the mission and to conduct experiments.

ABM Debate Lingers on, No Compromises Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate supporters of the Safeguard antiballistic missile proposal said Friday they will not compromise the hotly contested issue.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was reported equally adamant.

But Sen. Thomas J. McIntyre D-N.H., sponsor of a compromise amendment, said in an interview

"They don't have the votes."

"They'll be hard-nosed this afternoon," McIntyre said, "but by next week they'll begin to crack."

"The Administration is going to have to make up its mind whether it is going to go for broke or go for a modification," he added.

Poseidon Contract Given Lockheed

From Our National Bureau

WASHINGTON — While debate over MIRV and ABM raged in the Senate, the Pentagon Friday announced a contract to begin production of the multiwarhead Poseidon ballistic missile.

The Navy announced a $102.8-million increment and an existing $1.2-billion contract with the Lockheed Missile and Space Co. of Sunnyvale for production of the missiles.

Lockheed was awarded the combination development and production contract a year ago, but the portion authorized Friday is the first for production of the weapons.

THIS LATEST award brings the amount obligated under the contract to half of the total.

Poseidon is a successor to the highly successful Polaris missiles fired from nuclear submarines that prowled the oceans constantly.

But, in place of the single warhead in Polaris, the newer model will have up to 10 nuclear warheads — each with more power than that unleashed by the atomic bomb that devastated Hiroshima in 1945.

Each warhead may be targeted independently, under a system known as Multiple Independently Targeted Vehicles (MIRV).

DESPISE the rising talk of a compromise, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois disputed the assertion of Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt. Thursday that, even if the Administration could squeeze out a 51-49 victory, that would be the same as a defeat.

"If you win by one point, it's as good as 20 touchdowns," Dirksen told reporters.

At the Pentagon, officials said Laird re-emphasized his "unqualified support for the Safeguard proposal as submitted by the President to Congress."

Asked whether Laird opposes a compromise, Pentagon spokesman Jerry Friedheim said "That is correct."

An aide to Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee and floor manager of the bill, said Stennis "is not thinking, not talking, not considering compromise."

Senate sources said that, with voting still probably at least two weeks away, no alternative acceptable to all Safeguard opponents has been found.

Mitchell Calls '65 Rights Act Lacking

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell testified Friday that legislation proposed by the Nixon Administration would strengthen the 1965 Voting Rights Act and protect Negroes in all of the nation.

He told the Senate judiciary subcommittee on constitutional rights that a simple 5-year extension of the 1965 law would be inadequate, that it would leave "the undereducated ghetto Negro as today's forgotten man in voting rights legislation."

MITCHELL made no reference to the overwhelming voice-vote approval Thursday by a House judiciary subcommittee of a bill to extend the present law without change. The House unit ignored the Administration proposal.

At the Senate hearing, Sens. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.,

and Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., contended the Administration bill would weaken enforcement of the 1965 act that requires states and counties to get advance clearance from the Justice Department for changing their voting laws.

But Mitchell told them that on the contrary "our proposal is stronger," and provides "a better method of preventing election law changes that would discriminate against Negroes seeking to register and vote."

And aside from this one change, he said, the Administration bill retains all the safeguards of the 1965 act while broadening it to apply to all 50 states, to eliminate residency requirements for voting in presidential elections, and to set up a commission to look into voting frauds.

"We have come to the firm conclusion that voting rights is no longer a regional issue," Mitchell said. "It is a national concern for every American which must be treated on a nationwide basis."

MITCHELL drew strong support from Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, the ranking Republican on the subcommittee. And the Southern members regard the Administration bill as less objectionable than the 1965 act.

Civil rights leaders concede privately that they figure they can count on only three of the subcommittee's eight members to support a simple 5-year extension of the present law.

However, the House Judiciary Committee is expected next week to follow the lead of its subcommittee in approving an extension bill rather than the nationwide measure urged by the Administration.

ICE CREAM MOB HITS MR. SOFTEE

NEW YORK (AP) — Terror tactics by the ice cream Mob have sharply reduced the number of Mr. Softee ice cream trucks operating in the Bronx and Brooklyn, a company official says.

After an owner-driver was kidnaped and his truck blown up, only 38 of the usual 110 trucks were on the street Friday. The rest were idle because their drivers were "afraid to go out," the official said.

A week earlier six armed men raided three company garages in the two boroughs and stripped about $75,000 worth of parts from 76 of the trucks.

District attorneys say the crimes are apparently the work of organized gangsters.

Tax Committee Eyes Employee Stock Owners

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee has decided tentatively to trim some of the tax advantages corporation executives and employees can receive by stock ownership and a deferred-payment plan.

The committee, announcing this Friday, also confirmed another tentative decision — to encourage states to issue bonds whose interest would be taxable.

its six months review of the internal revenue code, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., repeated that "The committee hopes to have the tax reform bill completed, reported to and passed through the House prior to the beginning of the August recess."

President Nixon's bill to continue the income surtax narrowly passed the House and now is facing delays in the Senate, because of demands that tax reform be speeded along with any extension of the surtax.

The committee's tentative decisions announced Friday include also more stringent tax treatment of certain trusts used to accumulate funds for future use; some easing of the rules on income averaging for persons whose income fluctuates, and stricter rules on the accumulation of bad debt reserves by banks.

Indifference Charged Nixon Drug Bill Stand Under Fire

New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — The Nixon Administration was accused Friday of "astounding indifference to an alarming problem" in opposing a bill setting up education programs to combat drug abuse.

The Administration's stand was criticized by Rep. John Brademas, (D-Ind.) and Rep. Lloyd Meeds (D-Wash.) as a House education subcommittee continued its hearings into the drug abuse bill.

for the American Medical Association.

Support also came Friday from a former heroin addict, Mrs. Nancy Daniels, now a therapist at Exodus House.

Treasury Asks Bond Rate Hike

Tax-free income from state and municipal bonds now is extensively used by wealthy persons, banks and other investors to reduce and in some cases eliminate income tax they would otherwise pay.

The committee proposed a subsidy system so that states and municipalities could still issue and sell bonds on which they would pay comparatively low interest, while the federal government would make up the difference.

Yarborough Wants Full NASA Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., called on the Senate Friday to authorize and appropriate the full amount of money asked in former President Lyndon Johnson's budget for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

The senator's Washington office released a statement of Yarborough's remarks made on the Senate floor. He said the Nixon Administration budget calls for $45 million less for NASA than did Johnson's request. Johnson had asked for $3,760,527,000 in January 1969. Nixon has asked for $3,715,527,000.

MITCHELL made no reference to the overwhelming voice-vote approval Thursday by a House judiciary subcommittee of a bill to extend the present law without change. The House unit ignored the Administration proposal.

At the Senate hearing, Sens. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.,

FOR EXAMPLE, McIntyre, whose proposal would deploy the ABM's radars, and computers at the initial Safeguard sites in North Dakota and Montana but would bar deployment of its missiles, said he is unwilling to go as far as Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Philip A. Hart, D-Mich. They have introduced a rival amendment limiting the program to research and barring any deployment or site acquisition.

"I don't know how the Administration could go that far," McIntyre said. But he expressed belief the Administration could easily accept his proposal since he said it would keep the program on its time schedule toward full deployment in 1974.

As for a suggestion by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana that the radars and computers be deployed at two Pacific test sites, Kwajalein and Eniwetok, McIntyre said, "Everything we would do there would have to be done later" at the North Dakota and Montana sites and this would put the program behind schedule.

McINTYRE said "I expect to see another amendment coming in here," possibly by one of the dozen or so Senate Republicans who oppose Safeguard but have so far declined to endorse the Cooper-Bart amendment.

In one of the day's major Senate speeches, Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., said "I can say emphatically the Administration is not now disposed to compromise" and there is "currently no intent to participate in a compromise effort."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Treasury Department formally unveiled Friday its proposal for increasing the interest rate on savings bonds to 5 per cent and removing the interest ceiling that has kept the government out of the long term securities market since 1965.

Paul A. Volcker, undersecretary for monetary affairs, told a news conference he expects no sharp increase in sales because "These rates are simply not higher than people can get from their local savings and loan."

But the department would set a new, lower limit of $5,000 purchase value on the amount of Series E, or Series H bonds an individual can buy each year. The present limits, based on face value, are $20,000 and $30,000 respectively.

Hornet Ready for Apollo 11 Recovery

ABOARD THE USS HORNET (UPI) — It takes time to convert a ship of the line geared for war into an instrument of peace.

But time was at a minimum for the officers and crew of the Long Beach-based carrier as they prepared her for the role of prime recovery vessel in the history-making Apollo 11 moon mission.

Complicating the planning is the intention of President Nixon and his staff to be aboard the Hornet when the astronauts are plucked from the Pacific.

Recovery teams and helicopter pilots, primary winch operators and back-up winch operators undergo special training. Even the captain and his executive officers are specially briefed in astronaut and module recovery procedures.

THE LOGISTICS problem of what gear to put ashore and what to bring aboard was vital before the Hornet headed for the splashdown area in the Pacific.

"This ship was in Vietnam for eight months," said her skipper, Capt. Carl J. Seiberlich, "and when we came back to the States, we just had one month in the yards to get the crew some leave time and work on her equipment."

"It's been a tight schedule and there has been a lot of work involved," he said.

But the conversion task was made much easier by the crew's eagerness to participate in the mission.

"They're really charged up," Seiberlich said. "They really want to get out there and do this job. Each crewman knows that he may be the guy to fill the bill on whatever might happen."

Space limitations have been of prime import in the Hornet's conversion.

"Everything that we looked at on the ship," Seiberlich said, "we asked does this contribute to Apollo. If the answer was no, then off it went."

"We're only taking the airplanes with us that we need for the mission" — meaning eight helicopters, four specially equipped radar reconnaissance planes and three twin-engined transports.

EVERYTHING must be right when astronauts Neil A. Armstrong, Michael Collins and Edwin E. Aldrin return from their historic trip to the moon.

The four planes with huge mushroom-shaped radar pods on their backs, will be airborne getting a fix on the module as it heads for the water. The choppers also will be up, waiting for splashdown.

And, on the flight deck, two of the transports, called "Cods" (for carrier onboard delivery) will be readying to speed the moon samples brought back by the astronauts to the Houston Manned Space Center for analysis.

Seiberlich said the Hornet's capability for handling fixed winged aircraft was probably the prime reason she was chosen. "The high priority of getting the moon samples back to Houston just as rapidly as possible," made a larger carrier like the Hornet "a necessity."

The USS Princeton, which handled the recovery of the Apollo 10 module and crew, was a helicopter carrier.

National Aeronautics and Space Administration scientists need the samples so they can find out if Armstrong, Collins and Aldrin brought any strange micro-organisms, bacteria or viruses back with them from the moon.

BECAUSE of this possibility, the Apollo trio will be under quarantine as soon as they leave the module in the water. They will be scrubbed down by a frogman, given a special suit to wear and flown to the Hornet in an isolated section of the recovery chopper, away from the rest of the crew.

Back at the carrier, the three returning spacemen will have to walk through a specially constructed isolation tunnel to the mobile quarantine facility, which resembles a modified house trailer, where they will spend the next 21 days with a doctor. This will give NASA enough time to discover what's in the samples and allow time enough for any moon virus the astronauts carried back with them to show itself.

This need for isolation means the usual flight-deck welcoming ceremonies must be skipped. But, Seiberlich said the tradition of presenting returning astronauts with baseball caps like those worn by officers of the recovery ship won't be skipped — only modified.

ORDERING the caps was the first thing he did when he learned the Hornet would recover Apollo 11. He wanted to make sure they would be ready when splashdown occurred because earlier astronauts viewed their caps as "treasured souvenirs." So, the caps "will be waiting for them when they get inside the MQF."

Probably the most excited person connected with the recovery is 20-year-old frogman John Wolfram, of Atkinson, Wis. He will be the first in the water and first to touch the module.

"It's really great," he said. "I'll be the first man here on earth to see 'em when they get back... the first one in the entire world."

TRIESTE PROBES SUNKEN SCORPION

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said Friday its deep-diving submersible Trieste II has begun a new probe of wreckage of the submarine Scorpion deep in the Atlantic about 400 miles southwest of the Azores.

The Scorpion was lost in May 1968 with a crew of 99. Portions of its hull were located by deep water cameras last October.

The Trieste will take additional photographs and check around the debris for information which could help determine the cause of the sinking.

The submersible has an arm-like manipulator and a small basket to retrieve relatively light-weight objects.

The Trieste will operate in the area until the end of summer, then probably return to home port in San Diego.

No Sight of Lone Housewife at Sea

Associated Press

Sharon Sites Adams, 38-year-old housewife attempting to become the first woman to sail solo across the Pacific, apparently hasn't been seen since May 15, three days after she left Yokohama, her husband said in Los Angeles Friday.

At Adams said he isn't particularly worried because she isn't due to arrive in San Diego until July 22 and her radio reaches only 500 miles.

But he said he is somewhat surprised that some ship hasn't spotted her somewhere and radioed the news to American and Japanese authorities.

Adams said his wife, sailing in a 31-foot ketch, undoubtedly has been having a rough voyage. Gales of up to 40 knots and 20-foot seas have been recorded every five or six days along her route.

Several hundred Japanese saw her departure May 12. Three days later a Japanese Navy flyer spotted her 70 miles off the coast.

Heyerdahl's Reed Boat Soggy But Still Sailing

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — A papyrus raft Thor Heyerdahl's crew is sailing across the Atlantic is getting a little soggy in the stern, but there is no danger of the craft sinking, Heyerdahl's radio contact said today.

"As of 6 a.m. when I had my last radio contact with the Ra, they were taking some water over the stern, but since it's a raft instead of a real boat, the water just runs out again," said Richard Ehrhorn, an engineer with the Electronics Communications Institute who maintains voice contact with the Ra three times a week.

Heyerdahl said his crew was "working desperately" to keep their "floating haystack" in its original condition until a boatload of photographers arrived.

"The main worry Heyerdahl has is to avoid changing the configuration of the Ra before the photographers get there. They lost some buoyancy in the stern and waves are coming in, making it kind of uncomfortable," Ehrhorn explained.

"Heyerdahl said they probably would take some bundles of papyrus which have never been in the water, most likely from that high prow that serves as decoration, and put them in the stern to increase buoyancy," he said.

Ehrhorn added, "Of course, he doesn't want to do that until after the yacht with the photographers arrives."

Week's Wall Street Trend

By PHIL THOMAS AP Business Writer NEW YORK (AP) — After a brief glimpse of sunshine, the stock market again was shrouded with gloom this past week as it tumbled to one of its steepest losses since last February. "The smiles of last week are gone," an analyst said. "This was, to put it mildly, a very rough week."

As an example, he pointed to the closely watched Dow Jones industrial average. The DJI, which gained 16.36 points in last week's technical rally after six straight weeks of sharp decline in which it lost nearly 100 points, skidded 33.87 points to close at 852.25. The loss was its biggest for a week since the one ended Feb. 21 when it fell 35.30 points. And while it managed to pick up a few points in its closing session, the DJI still finished just a bit above its 1969 closing low of 847.79 which was set Thursday.

There was no indication in early trading Monday of the beating the market was to take during the week.

The technical rally of the previous week seemed to be continuing in early trading, but it soon ran into profit taking, its force was blunted, and the market drifted to a loss.

"The failure of the rally to continue, despite the market's extremely oversold condition," an analyst said, "indicates that tight money worries overshadow practically everything in this market."

Or, as Harris, Upham & Co. put it, "People who follow fundamentals would like to see more signs that inflation has really been checked because the Federal Reserve is unlikely to give up in its battle to fight it through tight money until they see victory in sight. Progress in the quest for peace in Vietnam would, of course, have an electrifying effect on the market, especially in its oversold condition."

"But until peace is in sight and until the battle against inflation is won, further declines to correct the distortions caused by the speculative trading of recent years are likely to be seen."

Disappointment over the rally's failure plus a mixed bag of other troubling developments sent the market tumbling sharply Tuesday.

Analysts said the decline apparently was due to continuing investor concern over the fate of the income tax surcharge extension.

GOOD NUDES

Filmmakers View Movie-Sex Candor

By NORMAN GOLDSTEIN

Is no nudes good nudes? With movies leaving little, if anything, to the imagination in scenes of sexuality, how much further can they go? What effect will the "new freedoms" have on the future of the motion picture industry? Here, some film makers offer their comments.

NEW YORK (AP) — In the decade of the '60s, movies have followed the public path of permissiveness; as old rules of sex morality disappeared, movie taboos vanished along with them; as skirts got shorter and blouses bared, movies too bared more, dared more.

Uninhibited language. Nudity. The "ultimate" in sex. All have spread from the roots of society to the movie screen, where the anything-goes attitude is reflected, to the satisfaction of some, the chagrin of many.

In retrospect, it is difficult to imagine the heated debate over Clark Gable's use of the word "damn" speaking to Vivien Leigh, no less — in "Gone With the Wind," or the furor over Jane Russell's cleavage in "The Outlaw."

EVEN the "sensational" backside nudity of "Cleopatra" just six years ago, or the cause celebre created by the bared breasts in "The Pawnbroker" only four years ago, are "tame" compared to what has been seen on American screens of late — particularly in foreign imports. Have the movies, then, reached the "ultimate?" Has the new flood of candid cinema crested? Where are the "new freedoms" leading?

Generally, moviemakers feel this, too, will pass; it is but a phase in the maturation of a young art. Most object more to the emphasis on advertising and exploitation of the "sensational" scenes than to the over-all trend.

Here are some comments from filmmakers on the increasing sexuality of movies:

JOHN Boulting, British film producer-director and partner in his own film company with brother Roy, "The creator is now liberated vis-a-vis 10 years ago. There's been a gradual eroding of inhibitions. The youngsters took over after the war. They didn't buy the values of our world, the sham, the hypocrisies. This had immediate consequences in cinema, which is acutely liberal, more accepted and discussed. And revealed."

"Now everything goes — far too much. It becomes a first-class — or is it third-class? — bore. "We are going through a phase to gratify a long-desired wish to deal with sexuality. In three, four, five years, we'll return to the ultimately rewarding drama of life."

MARTIN Quigley Jr., movie trade paper publisher, whose father helped write the original movie production code, in an editorial in Motion Picture Daily: "Initially, nudity had a certain shock effect and has been rewarded with a great deal of publicity. However, repetition of nudity is bound to reduce both shock effects and publicity. Soon nudity may be greeted with a yawn."

"Let's hope filmmakers get off the nudity and 'ultimate' sex kicks. Apart from any consideration of morality and public policy, they are self-defeating so far as screen entertainment is concerned."

Chapel Theater's 'Aleichem'a Warmly Human Production

By RALPH HINMAN JR.
Drama Critic

The warmly human "World of Sholom Aleichem" still exists in an entertainingly different production at Lomita's Chapel Theater.

Reflected in this dramatization of three folk tales by a fine turn of the century Jewish writer — he whose world it is — are values too seldom seen on today's stage: gentle, sly humor, honor, unabashedly sentimental-honest love.

Director Mill Rogart has taken, three playlets, linked them with new-old material and brought forth a dramatic tone poem. It could have been played or sung under the flaring gas light, sixty years ago on New York's Lower East Side.

As a guide to moviegoers, this newspaper on Wednesdays and Saturdays lists capsule contents of major motion pictures playing the Long Beach area. Most classifications represent the judgment of the Film Board of National Organizations.

der the proscenium. Simple, almost impressionistic modern sets strengthen rather than detract from a timeless feeling created by the play itself.

Act I, "A Tale of Chelm," recounts a presumably ancient legend of the stupid wise man whose wife sends him to buy a female goat. A fun-loving friend substitutes and resubstitutes a billy for the nanny in this, the most lighthearted of the trio.

For all its gentle humor there is a moral offered. A rabbi's rather pompous certification of a he-goat as a she proves again that authority needs watching, is not always right.

"BONTCHE SCHWEIG," Act II, possibly is the strangest of the lot. A totally innocuous title character is being welcomed to heaven, where it conclusively is proved his was a completely selfless life. So selfless, in fact, that he's done nothing productive on earth — except exist.

There is a very subtle message, I'm told, in this focus on a born loser.

Finally, there is a different kind of "Jewish momma" as heroine of "The High School." Her greatest ambition is to get a bright young son into a good school despite racial quotas that make hers a heartbreaking task.

MOMMA is a far cry from the voracious, smothering type currently popular in American fiction. Portnoy would have no complaint.

Three-star rating, with complete, unqualified recommendation for full-family togetherness.

FCC May Investigate KNBC Smog Program

By GEORGE LAINE Staff Writer

The National Broadcasting Company and its Los Angeles affiliate, KNBC, are facing new problems in their bid for license renewal because of a public service program aired twice by the station.

Political overtones were evident in some criticisms of "The Dry Guillotine," an hour-long indictment of do-nothing attitudes in industry and government regarding smog and pollution. The program, originally presented May 10 and rebroadcast on June 27, received contrasting acclaim from the scientific and academic communities.

CONTROVERSY is not new or unwanted within television and the Federal Communications Commission has indicated it is concerned not because KNBC aired the program but because it failed to carry it on its other four stations or on its network.

FCC Commissioner Nicholas Johnson has already gone on record as charging that major networks practice a form of censorship, bypassing areas which might conflict with corporate profits or personal philosophies.

Johnson is expected to introduce the case of "The Dry Guillotine" when the FCC opens its licensing hearings. Site and date of the hearing has not been announced.

"Would it really surprise you," Johnson asked earlier this month, "to learn that the broadcasting industry has been less than eager to tell you about the health hazards of smoking?" He added other instances in which broadcasters have failed to tell the people "the whole truth" about such

FCC May Investigate KNBC Smog Program

By GEORGE LAINE Staff Writer

The strange fate of "The Dry Guillotine" — good enough for Los Angeles audiences, not good enough for the nation at large — sounded like a teapot in a teapot a month ago. Today it looms as a potential "Teapot Dome" for the FCC probers.

who were also angered by the program. And now, it appears, the FCC is also upset.

JOHNSON will have a great deal of company if he does raise the question of the secret exposure of "Dry Guillotine" to Los Angeles audiences. Some of the response to the program has been caustic and dramatic.

"Unless pollution is controlled nationwide," said California State College at Long Beach botany professor Richard G. Lincoln, "you will soon have no audience to receive your excellent programs."

Thomas H. Moore of Santa Ana said that "unless either the TV industry or the newspapers or both act, there is no way the non-technical majority of the population can know either what we face from pollution or how easy it is to solve the problems."

Robert Tickell, of 4514 Hazelbrook, said that it was "about time someone took a stand and let the people know about (air pollution)."

Christine Ann Selling of Torrance, who said the program "brought this problem into sharp focus for me," predicted that "if this show doesn't go on network television, the people in high places who control this sort of thing... (will continue)... to ignore what's right in favor of what's profitable."

GEORGE MURPHY, California's Republican senator, was appalled by the program but not in quite the fashion his constituents might have hoped. He said he wondered "whether these facts are true." At another point in the program, he seemed to be suggesting that if the state's anti-smog rules were too stringent for industry, they ought to be relaxed. Murphy was irritated with the image he achieved on the program.

But there were others — notably pro-auto industry Michigan legislators — those most-wanted tags for more than two years now," Martin said with a measure of pride. "And so far they've captured every single one of them."

All well and good for the FBI and Martin. But what of Zimbalist?

One of these days it's possible a gangster might look him up to settle accounts.

Evidently Zimbalist has little cause for fear. According to Martin, there is a Washington agent who is a prototype for Lewis Erskine, the character portrayed by the actor.

"I wrote up a sketch of Erskine when I went back east to talk about doing the series," Martin related. "And I was astonished to find a man who turned out to be just like him."

Thus far Martin has produced 2,114 episodes in the series involving kidnapping, murder, Communist espionage, ultra-left militants, right wing crackpots, extortionists and every sort of criminal.

All cases are taken from the FBI files.

"It should be noted we are given access only to closed cases," Martin said. "And the bureau has been helpful in giving us technical advice so that we don't film anything to distort its work."

Martin said that in four years the FBI has never interfered with the story content of a show except to say, "We wouldn't handle it that way."

FCC May Investigate KNBC Smog Program

By GEORGE LAINE
Staff Writer

The National Broadcasting Company and its Los Angeles affiliate, KNBC, are facing new problems in their bid for license renewal because of a public service program aired twice by the station.

Political overtones were evident in some criticisms of "The Dry Guillotine," an hour-long indictment of do-nothing attitudes in industry and government regarding smog and pollution. The program, originally presented May 10 and rebroadcast on June 27, received contrasting acclaim from the scientific and academic communities.

CONTROVERSY is not new or unwanted within television and the Federal Communications Commission has indicated it is concerned not because KNBC aired the program but because it failed to carry it on its other four stations or on its network.

FCC Commissioner Nicholas Johnson has already gone on record as charging that major networks practice a form of censorship, bypassing areas which might conflict with corporate profits or personal philosophies.

Johnson is expected to introduce the case of "The Dry Guillotine" when the FCC opens its licensing hearings. Site and date of the hearing has not been announced.

"Would it really surprise you," Johnson asked earlier this month, "to learn that the broadcasting industry has been less than eager to tell you about the health hazards of smoking?" He added other instances in which broadcasters have failed to tell the people "the whole truth" about such matters as Vietnam war profits and price-fixing by U.S. industry.

JOHNSON will have a great deal of company if he does raise the question of the secret exposure of "Dry Guillotine" to Los Angeles audiences. Some of the response to the program has been caustic and dramatic.

"Unless pollution is controlled nationwide," said California State College at Long Beach botany professor Richard G. Lincoln, "you will soon have no audience to receive your excellent programs."

Thomas H. Moore of Santa Ana said that "unless either the TV industry or the newspapers or both act, there is no way the non-technical majority of the population can know either what we face from pollution or how easy it is to solve the problems."

Robert Tickell, of 4544 Hazelbrook, said that it was "about time someone took a stand and let the people know about (air pollution)."

Christine Ann Setting of Torrance, who said the program "brought this problem into sharp focus for me," predicted that "if this show doesn't go on network television, the people in high places who control this sort of thing... (will continue)... to ignore what's right in favor of what's profitable."

GEORGE MURPHY, California's Republican senator, was appalled by the program but not in quite the fashion his constituents might have hoped. He said he wondered "whether these facts are true." At another point in the program, he seemed to be suggesting that if the state's anti-smog rules were too stringent for industry, they ought to be relaxed. Murphy was irritated with the image he achieved on the program.

But there were others—notably pro-auto industry Michigan legislators—who were also angered by the program. And now, it appears, the FCC is also upset.

The strange fate of "The Dry Guillotine"—good enough for Los Angeles audiences, not good enough for the nation at large—sounded like a tempest in a teapot a month ago. Today it looms as a potential "Teapot Dome" for the FCC probers.

Violence to Drop on TV for Kiddies

By TERRY VERNON
(George Eres is on vacation)

Much of the criticism of violence on television has been aimed at the sock-it-to-'em, shoot-'em-up adventure and cartoon series directed at the small fry on Saturday mornings.

Both NBC and ABC have announced plans to do something about the situation — possibly because changes there are less costly than in the prime-time adult show.

The kids may not like what's in store for them. There'll even be "messages" and sugar-coated educational shows.

But like spinach, it may be good for them. And the networks, desiring good ratings, naturally will make it all as pleasant and painless as possible.

"NBC'S AMERICAN Rainbow," marking the initial network sponsorship of a well-known chain of restaurants, will hit the air late next year in a series of seven monthly, full-hour specials.

Now in production are "Lincoln Center Children's Festival" and "Wilderness Road," with other hours planned for space exploration and American landmarks.

Idea of the series is to "widen the horizon and add to the knowledge and interests of young Americans, and at the same time encourage a sense of pride in their country."

Worthy objectives, those. And the idea certainly should impress Senator Pastore.

OTHER NEW NBC children's series, for Saturday airing, include Ivan Tors' live-action series, "Jungle Tales," to be hosted by Marshall Thompson, who worked with Tors on the "Daktari" series.

There'll also be an animated "Pink Panther" cartoon... an adventure series ("H. R. Pufnstuf") starring Oscar-nominated young Jack Wild of "Oliver!" along with castles and trees that talk, designed by famed puppeteers Sid and Marty Krofft.

PERKINS

Another new entry will be the animated "Here Comes the Grumps," featuring a young boy and his dog, transported to a fantasy land.

ABC WILL be adding five new Saturday morning shows for the youngsters.

"The Smokey Bear Show" will conclude with a conservation message for the youngsters, while "Hot Wheels," an animated series dealing with a group of responsible young drivers, will wind up each show with a tip for safe driving.

"The Hardy Boys" is drawn from the long-time best-selling mystery books for children, and like "Sky Hawks" and "The Nashville Cats," is animated.

ABC's whole new Saturday morning line-up will be tied into its "Super Saturday Club," a contemporary version of the old Captain Midnight clubs of radio days.

For a membership fee of 50 cents, the kiddies will get a badge, membership card, pennant, montage poster showing all the characters in the ABC cartoons, a stamp album, decals, a newsletter and premium coupons.

While ABC claims the idea is "to provide a new dimension in children's television programming aimed at total involvement of the youngsters with the media," obviously more important to the network is to build up a kind of kiddie loyalty for dear old ABC.

TO INTRODUCE the Super Saturday Club, ABC will try to impress the parents of its future viewers.

A full-hour prime-time special, explaining the series, will air on Thursday,

Sept. 4, co-hosted by the cast of the new-to-ABC "Ghost and Mrs. Muir," including stars Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare.

young Jack Wild of "Oliver!" along with castles and trees that talk, designed by famed puppeteers Sid and Marty Krofft.

Another new entry will be the animated "Here Comes the Grumps," featuring a young boy and his dog, transported to a fantasy land.

ABC WILL be adding five new Saturday morning shows for the youngsters.

"The Smokey Bear Show" will conclude with a conservation message for the youngsters, while "Hot Wheels," an animated series dealing with a group of responsible young drivers, will wind up each show with a tip for safe driving.

"The Hardy Boys" is drawn from the long-time best-selling mystery books for children, and like "Sky Hawks" and "The Nashville Cats," is animated.

ABC's whole new Saturday morning line-up will be tied into its "Super Saturday Club," a contemporary version of the old Captain Midnight clubs of radio days.

For a membership fee of 50 cents, the kiddies will get a badge, membership card, pennant, montage poster showing all the characters in the ABC cartoons, a stamp album, decals, a newsletter and premium coupons.

While ABC claims the idea is "to provide a new dimension in children's television programming aimed at total involvement of the youngsters with the media," obviously more important to the network is to build up a kind of kiddie loyalty for dear old ABC.

TO INTRODUCE the Super Saturday Club, ABC will try to impress the parents of its future viewers.

A full-hour prime-time special, explaining the series, will air on Thursday,

Sept. 4, co-hosted by the cast of the new-to-ABC "Ghost and Mrs. Muir," including stars Hope Lange and Edward Mulhare.

WHO'S CALLING SIGNALS, PETE?

Namath to Report to Jets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Namath has changed his mind about retiring from football and will report to the New York Jets' camp at Hofstra University on schedule Sunday, United Press International learned Friday.

Namath, who "retired" June 6 rather than sell his interest in the bar and restaurant Bachelors III, as ordered to by football commissioner Pete Rozelle because undesirables were found to be frequenting the place, revealed he had changed his mind about quitting to a few of his closest associates.

He was involved in the making of a film near Los Angeles Friday and said he would have an announcement about his change in plans "later on."

The New York Jets have proceeded on the theory that Namath would report on schedule all along.

Weeb Ewbank, general manager and coach of the Jets, sent the usual form letter to Namath's home in Beaver Falls, Pa., telling him when and where to report. The same form letter was sent to all of the world champion Jets.

Namath did not say whether he plans to sell his interest in the restaurant.

It could be that Namath plans to force Rozelle's hand.

He could report to the Jets' camp at Hempstead, N.Y. and tell Ewbank he's ready to play. In that case, Ewbank would be forced to tell Namath he was under suspension, not necessarily by the Jets, but by the commissioner's office.

Some of Namath's friends have indicated that the 26-year-old quarterback then might go into court and claim he's being deprived of an opportunity of making a living.

Reggie Relishes Angels

Home Run Leader Hero With Double

By GORDON VERRELL Staff Writer

OAKLAND — "You know what I'm gonna do with you, Reggie," Angels' manager Lefty Phillips was telling Oakland's Reggie Jackson the major league's home run leader, before Friday night's game.

"I'm going to use four outfielders. I'm going to put the third baseman in the outfield somewhere and make you hunt down the third base line. That way we'll hold you to a single."

"That's okay, Lefty," Jackson replied, smiling. "If I hit the ball on the nose and it's in the air, you can stack your outfielders on top of one another . . . and it's still a home run."

Lefty was kidding, of course. But it might not have been a bad idea. Jackson didn't get any homers but he did rifle a double off the wall in the fifth inning to drive in two runs and help the A's to a 3-0 win over the Angels.

Still, with Reggie Jackson the subject is home runs. There's the inevitable comparison between the one-time Arizona State star and the home run giants of another day, Babe Ruth and Roger Maris.

"I'm no Babe Ruth," is all Reggie says when asked what he thinks about his chances of reaching the 60 plateau in homers.

He has 34 now but none in the last week. "I'm in a

ANGEL OF DAY BILL VOSS singled twice in Angels' 3-0 loss to A's.

drought, I guess," he laughed. "It's been a long time."

A year ago Jackson offered something of a hint of his power. He cracked out 29 homers in his first full season in the bigs. He also whiffed 171 times — second highest strikeout count in baseball history.

"What am I doing this year that's different? Just one thing," he said. "This season I'm making contact."

Like anyone else, Jackson says he isn't trying to hit homers for the sake of hitting homers. "Oh, once in a while maybe I'll try to hit one out," he explained, "but only if the game is tied and we need one run. A guy can't try to hit home runs and expect to do any good."

"But it's a funny thing," he went on. "I think I might be a better hitter when I'm trying to hit the home run. I slow everything down and get a much better look at the ball."

Pitching to Jackson, who's batting .279 besides hitting the 34 homers, is no easy assignment. "I guess most of my home runs have come off the fast ball," he theorized. "I'd say 60 per cent of them, anyway."

"Most pitchers will try to sneak a fast ball by . . . a bad one, one that's a little outside maybe. Then I'll see the curve, slider and change."

Jackson's double off Tom Murphy was a slider and the Oakland right-fielder drove it over Lou Johnson's head to the wall, roughly a 360-foot drive.

That's nothing, though, compared with some of his other mammoth blows. He drove one some 450 feet at Anaheim Stadium last year and he's extended the tape more than 500 feet at Kansas City and Minnesota this season.

Reggie gets knocked down a lot, too, and he expects it. "That's why I wear this heavy bandage on my right hand," he said displaying his

Ninth Inning Error Costly for Dodgers

By FRED CLAIRE Staff Writer

It was such an unusual game two guys from Broken Arrow, Okla., ended up being involved in the decision.

It was the Giants 6, Dodgers 4 in 10 innings.

It was a Dodger victory until there was two out in the ninth and a ground ball was hit to second baseman Ted Sizemore by the Giants' Willie McCovey.

Sizemore, playing on the outfield grass with the McCovey shift in effect, fielded the ball but made a wide throw to first base and Bobby Bonds came home from third base with the Giants' second run of the inning to tie the score 4-4.

Bonds produced two runs for the Giants with a 10th inning single.

Jim Brewer suffered his second loss of the season and first since May 3. Frank Linzy (7-4) gained the victory. Both pitchers, the relief aces for their clubs, are from Broken Arrow.

The loss dropped the Dodgers from first to second in the National League's Western Division.

It was a game the Dodgers appeared to have locked up after scoring three runs in the seventh to go ahead 4-2.

Brewer came on to pitch in the bottom of the seventh and he has been the most effective relief pitcher in the major leagues.

He had given up only one earned run in April, one in June and one in three appearances this month. He had given up only run in his last 23 innings of work, spanning a dozen appearances.

Brewer's screwball was not at its best, but he would have passed the 13th save mark had it not been for the error by Sizemore.

It was Sizemore's first error since June 10, the night before the trade for Maury Wills and Manny Mota. He had played a full month without an error.

It was a night the Dodgers had every chance to win but didn't. They kept hitting line drives against Giant starter Gaylord Perry but had only one run until the seventh when four singles produced two runs. Even then, Willie Davis and Wes Parker were left on second and third with one out.

The Dodgers had Brewer on third base with one out in the eighth after an unusual turn of events. Brewer had struck out but took first when the ball

Favorites Keep PGA Hopes Alive

By DOUG IVES Staff Writer

Tommy Jacobs emerged as the man to beat, Eddie Merrins survived a 27-hole match and Pinky Stevenson continued to breeze as all favorites advanced Friday in the Southern California PGA golf tournament.

Playing in goofy weather, which included a thunderstorm, intermittent showers and bright sun, the eight players who reached today's quarterfinals will form four of the most appealing matches in the tourney's long history.

Here's how they will line up at Recreation Park, starting at 9:30 a.m.:

—Jimmy Powell, the defending champion from Yorba Linda, against Jerry Steelsmith, an eight-year touring pro who will go to work at Brookside next week.

—Mac Hunter against Eddie Merrins in a battle of close friends who are more accustomed to country club golf — Mac at Riviera, Eddie at Bel Air.

—Pinky Stevenson, pride of Long Beach against Bobby Clark, former Lakewood High and Long Beach City College player who has been at Antelope Valley CC for three years.

—Tommy Jacobs, once one of golfdom's biggest stars, against Joe Kirkwood, once a matinee idol as Joe Palooka, and the only player left who is over age 40.

Only Jacobs deserves a clear-cut edge, but despite Tommy's brilliant play in this tournament, Kirkwood cannot be taken lightly, especially following his gummy performance Friday.

Gulping aspirin like water to combat a "horrible" pain in his left leg and lower back, the Studio City pro won both of his matches with birdies on the 19th hole after his opponents gave him life with bogeys on the 18th.

"My left leg is 200 degrees hotter than my right," said Kirkwood after he drove the green and eliminated Paul Scodeller with a conceded birdie in his afternoon match. In the morning, it was Manuel Quezada who fell on the 19th.

The husky Kirkwood said he would visit a doctor tonight to see "if he can fix me up."

Even a healthy Kirkwood might be in over his head against Jacobs, who has yet to bogey a hole in 53 and has 14 birdies and one eagle. His victims Friday were Bill Train, 6-4, and Bill Creavy, 5-3.

"I'm playing as good now as I ever did," said the man who was runner-up in the U.S. Open in 1964, second in the Masters in 1966 and a big money-winner for years until the last 24 months.

Jacobs admitted, "I came here to regain my confidence and to get into the national PGA."

Sectional champs qualify for the nationals in five weeks at Dayton, Ohio.

Against Train, Jacobs went out in 32 to lead 4

British Reverse Decision on U.S. Golfer's Manners

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (UPI) — The Royal and Ancient Golf Club which found fault with an American player's conduct in the qualifying rounds of the 1969 British Open championship here pedaled backwards Friday and said it was all a mistake.

Keith MacKenzie, secretary of the R. and A., dictator of the game, said he was writing to the U.S. PGA acknowledging an error had been made in the case of 24-year-old Mike Evans of Seattle, a graduate of Houston University.

What happened was this:

Norman Von Nida, the Australian veteran, had to retire after 27 holes of the 36-hole qualifying round because of a severe attack of hay fever. Evans, playing with him and with Dennis Raven of England, continued until the 15th hole though bothered by a torn ligament in his hand.

At that point, Evans was unable to continue hitting the ball. With Raven's permission, he quit and Raven joined the two-some just ahead so that he at least had someone to mark his card.

The report reached the recorders and thence to the R. and A. that all three had returned no cards. The information led officials to conclude that Evans had walked off, leaving Raven high and dry.

They decided to send an objection to the American PGA. The truth of the matter came out Friday.

Evans had turned in a card marked "injured wrist" and Raven had been protected against playing all alone.

"Evans had talked to me about this. Now we have it completely sorted out and I'm going to write a letter to the U.S. PGA explaining what happened," MacKenzie said. "Evans is in the clear."

Tony Jacklin, the 25-year-old Englishman now at home on the United States circuit, took a two-stroke lead Friday over Irishman, Christy O'Connor and New Zealander Bob Charles after three rounds of the 1969 British Open Golf championship.

A total of 46 players, including nine Americans, made the cut at 222 for 54 holes.

Jacklin shot a one-under-par 870 Friday and wound up with a five-under-par total for three rounds of 68-70-70—208.

WHO'S CALLING SIGNALS, PETE?

Namath to Report to Jets

NEW YORK (UPI) — Joe Namath has changed his mind about retiring from football and will report to the New York Jets' camp at Hofstra University on schedule Sunday, United Press International learned Friday.

Namath, who "retired" June 6 rather than sell his interest in the bar and restaurant Bachelors III, as ordered to by football commissioner Pete Rozelle because undesirables were found to be frequenting the place, revealed he had changed his mind about quitting to a few of his closest associates.

He was involved in the making of a film near Los Angeles Friday and said he would have an announcement about his change in plans "later on."

The New York Jets have proceeded on the theory that Namath would report on schedule all along.

Weeb Ewbank, general manager and coach of the Jets, sent the usual form letter to Namath's home in Beaver Falls, Pa., telling him when and where to report. The same form letter was sent to all of the world champion Jets.

Namath did not say whether he plans to sell his interest in the restaurant.

It could be that Namath plans to force Rozelle's hand.

He could report to the Jets' camp at Hempstead, N.Y. and tell Ewbank he's ready to play. In that case, Ewbank would be forced to tell Namath he was under suspension, not necessarily by the Jets, but by the commissioner's office.

Some of Namath's friends have indicated that the 26-year-old quarterback then might go into court and claim he's being deprived of an opportunity of making a living.

British Reverse Decision on U.S. Golfer's Manners

LYTHAM ST. ANNES, England (UPI) — The Royal and Ancient Golf Club which found fault with an American player's conduct in the qualifying rounds of the 1969 British Open championship here pedaled backwards Friday and said it was all a mistake.

Keith MacKenzie, secretary of the R. and A., dictator of the game, said he was writing to the U.S. PGA acknowledging an error had been made in the case of 24-year-old Mike Evans of Seattle, a graduate of Houston University.

What happened was this:

Norman Von Nida, the Australian veteran, had to retire after 27 holes of the 36-hole qualifying round because of a severe attack of hay fever. Evans, playing with him and with Dennis Raven of England, continued until the 15th hole though bothered by a torn ligament in his hand.

At that point, Evans was unable to continue hitting the ball. With Raven's permission, he quit and Raven joined the two-some just ahead so that he at least had someone to mark his card.

The report reached the recorders and thence to the R. and A. that all three had returned no cards. The information led officials to conclude that Evans had walked off, leaving Raven high and dry.

They decided to send an objection to the American PGA. The truth of the matter came out Friday.

Evans had turned in a card marked "injured wrist" and Raven had been protected against playing all alone.

"Evans had talked to me about this. Now we have it completely sorted out and I'm going to write a letter to the U.S. PGA explaining what happened," MacKenzie said. "Evans is in the clear."

Tony Jacklin, the 25-year-old Englishman now at home on the United States circuit, took a two-stroke lead Friday over Irishman Christy O'Connor and New Zealander Bob Charles after three rounds of the 1969 British Open Golf championship.

A total of 46 players, including nine Americans, made the cut at 222 for 54 holes.

Jacklin shot a one-under-par 870 Friday and wound up with a five-under-par total for three rounds of 68-70-70—208.

Tommy Jacobs emerged as the man to beat, Eddie Merrins survived a 27-hole match and Pinky Stevenson continued to breeze as all favorites advanced Friday in the Southern California PGA golf tournament.

Playing in goofy weather, which included a thunderstorm, intermittent showers and bright sun, the eight players who reached today's quarter-finals will form four of the most appealing matches in the tourney's long history.

Here's how they will line up at Recreation Park, starting at 9:30 a.m.:

—Jimmy Powell, the defending champion from Yorba Linda, against Jerry Steelsmith, an eight-year touring pro who will go to work at Brookside next week.

—Mac Hunter against Eddie Merrins in a battle of close friends who are more accustomed to country club golf — Mac at Riviera, Eddie at Bel Air.

—Pinky Stevenson, pride of Long Beach against Bobby Clark, former Lakewood High and Long Beach City College player who has been at Antelope Valley CC for three years.

—Tommy Jacobs, once one of golf's biggest stars, against Joe Kirkwood, once a matinee idol as Joe Palooka, and the only player left who is over age 40.

Only Jacobs deserves a clear-cut edge, but despite Tommy's brilliant play in this tournament, Kirkwood cannot be taken lightly, especially following his gutty performance Friday.

Gulping aspirin like water to combat a "horrible" pain in his left leg and lower back, the Studio City pro won both of his matches with birdies on the 19th hole after his opponents gave him life with bogeys on the 18th.

"My left leg is 200 degrees hotter than my right," said Kirkwood after he drove the green and eliminated Paul Scodeller with a conceded birdie in his afternoon match. In the morning, it was Manuel Quezada who fell on the 19th.

The husky Kirkwood said he would visit a doctor tonight to see "if he can fix me up."

Even a healthy Kirkwood might be in over his head against Jacobs, who has yet to bogey a hole in 53 and has 14 birdies and one eagle. His victims Friday were Bill Train, 6-4, and Bill Creavy, 5-3.

"I'm playing as good now as I ever did," said the man who was runner-up in the U.S. Open in 1964, second in the Masters in 1966 and a big money-winner for years until the last 24 months.

Jacobs admitted, "I came here to regain my confidence and to get into the national PGA."

Sectional champs qualify for the nationals in five weeks at Dayton, Ohio.

Against Train, Jacobs went out in 32 to lead 4

OAKLAND — "You know what I'm gonna do with you, Reggie," Angels' manager Lefty Phillips was telling Oakland's Reggie Jackson the major league's home run leader, before Friday night's game.

"I'm going to use four outfielders. I'm going to put the third baseman in the outfield somewhere and make you bunt down the third base line. That way we'll hold you to a single."

"That's okay, Lefty," Jackson replied, smiling. "If I hit the ball on the nose and it's in the air, you can stack your outfielders on top of one another . . . and it's still a home run."

Lefty was kidding, of course. But it might not have been a bad idea. Jackson didn't get any homers but he did rifle a double off the wall in the fifth inning to drive in two runs and help the A's to a 3-0 win over the Angels.

Still, with Reggie Jackson the subject is home runs. There's the inevitable comparison between the one-time Arizona State star and the home run giants of another day, Babe Ruth and Roger Maris.

"I'm no Babe Ruth," is all Reggie says when asked what he thinks about his chances of reaching the 60 plateau in homers.

He has 34 now but none in the last week. "I'm in a

Ninth Inning Error Costly for Dodgers

By FRED CLAIRE
Staff Writer

It was such an unusual game two guys from Broken Arrow, Okla., ended up being involved in the decision.

It was the Giants 6, Dodgers 4 in 10 innings.

It was a Dodger victory until there was two out in the ninth and a ground ball was hit to second baseman Ted Sizemore by the Giants' Willie McCovey.

Sizemore, playing on the outfield grass with the McCovey shift in effect, fielded the ball but made a wide throw to first base and Bobby Bonds came home from third base with the Giants' second run of the inning to tie the score 4-4.

Bonds produced two runs for the Giants with a 10th inning single.

Jim Brewer suffered his second loss of the season and first since May 3. Frank Linzy (7-4) gained the victory. Both pitchers, the relief aces for their clubs, are from Broken Arrow.

The loss dropped the Dodgers from first to second in the National League's Western Division.

It was a game the Dodgers appeared to have locked up after scoring three runs in the seventh to go ahead 4-2.

Brewer came on to pitch in the bottom of the seventh and he has been the most effective relief pitcher in the major leagues.

He had given up only one earned run in April, one in June and one in three appearances this month. He had given up only run in his last 23 innings of work, spanning a dozen appearances.

Brewer's screwball was not at its best, but he would have passed the 13th save mark had it not been for the error by Sizemore.

It was Sizemore's first error since June 10, the night before the trade for Maury Wills and Manny Mota. He had played a full month without an error.

It was a night the Dodgers had every chance to win but didn't. They kept hitting line drives against Giant starter Gaylord Perry but had only one run until the seventh when four singles produced two runs. Even then, Willie Davis and Wes Parker were left on second and third with one out.

The Dodgers had Brewer on third base with one out in the eighth after an unusual turn of events. Brewer had struck out but took first when the ball

WATER WHIPPETS GO TO THE RACES

More than 150 high performance speedsters will go into action today at Marine Stadium in the National Drag Boat Assn. Grand Prix co-sponsored by the Long Beach Boat and Ski Club.

The race program is a preview of events to be seen during the California International Sea Festival Aug. 1-23.

A three-way battle in the exotic blown fuel hydro class (hydroplanes powered by supercharged engines using nitro-methane fuel and developing over 700 horsepower) is expected among Fresno drivers Larry Schwabenland in Miss British Columbia, Larry Hill (Mr. Ed), Sam Kurtovich (Crisis) and Walnut Creek's Mac Bales (Climax). All four boats have surpassed 180 mph this year.

Eliminations for under-100 mph classes begin at 9 a.m., with racing starting at noon. Sunday's program of racing for over-100 mph classes begins at noon.

Admission is $1.50 for adults, $2.50 on Sunday, with youngsters under 10 admitted free both days when accompanied by an adult.

Rams Trade Guillory on Eve of Training

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

George Allen, who begins his fourth year as head football coach when the Rams open their summer training camp at Cal State Fullerton today, recorded his 42nd trade when he acquired linebacker Jim Purnell and two future draft choices Friday from Philadelphia in exchange for linebacker Tom Guillory.

You'll have to pardon Purnell if he's in a daze when he reports Tuesday. The 27-year-old former Wisconsin player has been associated with four NFL teams in the past seven days.

"I was really let down when the Bears traded me to Atlanta," the six-year veteran said. "Then when the Falcons traded me to the Eagles I didn't know what to think. But I'm elated to be with the Rams," the 6-foot-3, 238-pounder said after hearing he would be reunited with Allen. Trader Allen originally signed Purnell as a free agent in 1964 when serving as defensive coach of the Bears.

"He's a hitter with a capital 'H,'" said Allen. And one Ram player can testify to that. Roman Gabriel still shudders recalling last December's battle with the Bears when he was knocked unconscious by Purnell's blindside tackle in the second quarter.

The Bears went on to keno the Rams' Coastal Division hopes, 17-16, in the famous "lost down" encounter at the Coliseum.

Allen will greet 31 rookies and 17 veterans today. Players must report by midnight, with physicals and the issuing of equipment scheduled Sunday. Two-a-day workouts begin Monday.

The remainder of the veterans will check in on Saturday, the 19th, three weeks prior to the Aug. 8 pre-season opener against Dallas in the Coliseum.

Two of the Rams' three first-round draft choices, wide receiver Jim Seymour from Notre Dame and tight end Bob Klein from USC, will miss two weeks of camp because of the College All-Star game.

The club's other first-round pick, running back Larry Smith of Florida, will be on hand at Fullerton today even though he was invited to play in the Chicago classic Aug. 1.

"Larry is still recovering from a foot injury," explained Allen, "and his physician has advised him against playing in the All-Star game."

Two other rookies, linebacker John Pergine from Notre Dame and place-kicker Don Martin from Washington, are excused from the first week of camp because of service obligations.

Heading the list of veterans reporting today are Gabriel, Jack Snow and Les Josephson. Also checking in early will be three newcomers: "quid" in recent treads — quarterback Karl Sweetan, defensive back Jim Nettles and linebacker Dick Absher.

up, while he finished strong against Crevy, making birds on Nos. 11, 12 and 13, and eagling 14.

Jacobs was 10-under-par for the day, one better than Hunter, who made four birdies and an eagle against Monty Blodgett, 4-3, and three birds and an eagle against Tom Ruppnik, 2-1.

Just the opposite was Merrins, who had nerves of steel in outlasting old Joe Calwell in 27 holes, three shy of the record 30 set in 1954 when Ralph Evans beat Fay Coleman.

Calwell missed a 2-foot putt on the 18th to force the overtime, then also dropped a 20-foot birdie on No. 25, only to see Merrins win a 12-footer. Merrins' winning putt also was from 12 feet after Calwell failed from 20.

A morning match, it ended at 2:40 p.m.

In the afternoon, Merrins eliminated Don White, 4-3, a man who threw eight birdies at Monte Sanders in the morning, then had to wait 2½ hours to meet Merrins.

Powell flashed some of last year's brilliance, making five birdies, no bogeys in each of his wins, 3-2 over Red Wiley and 2-1 over Paul McGuire.

Steelsmith, runnerup at the Azalea Open in 1962 and Alameda Open in 1964, carded a 67 to nip Larry Mancour, 1 up, in the morning, then watched Brian Lake bogey himself out of contention in the afternoon, 7-6.

"I played marvelous golf against Monty," said the 40-year-old Hunter, "but I was shaky in the afternoon."

Stevenson, who has yet to go past the 15th hole, topped Tom Barber, 4-3, and Wayne Otis, 6-5, by shooting 2-under in both matches.

Clark won the 17th and 18th holes to oust Cecil Harris 2 up, then survived another cliffhanger against Mike Korich, 1 up. Korich won the 17th with a bird and lipped out from 12 feet on the 18th that would have prolonged the match.

Upper bracket: Jimmy Powell (Yorba Linda), 5 under, def. Red Wiley (Inglewood) 3-2; Paul McGuire (San Gabriel), 3 under, def. Babe Laine (Torrance) 2-1; Jerry Steelsmith (Brookside), 5 under, def. Larry Mancour (Glendale) 3-2; Don White (Riverside), 4 under, def. Eric Monti (Hawthorne) 19th hole; Mac Hunter (Riverside), 3 under, def. Monty Blodgett (Virginia) 4-3; Tom Ruppnik (Alhambra), 1 over, def. Emil Scodeller (Arcadia) 3-2; Eddie Merrins (Bel Air), 4 under, def. Joe Calwell (Orange) 21st hole; Don Wiley (Riverside), 5 under, def. Monte Sanders (Santa Barbara) 2-1.

Lower bracket: Bobby Clark (Antelope Valley), 1 under, def. Cecil Harris (Montebello) 2 up; Mike Korich (Tulsa, Okla.), 1 under, def. Darrel Hickok (Van Nuys) 1 up; Pinky Stevenson (Vermont), 2 under, def. Tom Barber (Griffith Park) 1 up; Eddie Sullivan (La Costa), 1 under, def. Eddie Scodeller (Arcadia) 3-2; Don White (Bel Air), 4 under, def. Joe Calwell (Orange) 21st hole; Don Wiley (Riverside), 5 under, def. Monte Sanders (Santa Barbara) 2-1.

Today's pairings: 9:30 a.m., Powell vs. Steelsmith; 1:35 p.m., Hunter vs. Clark; 2:40 p.m., Clark vs. Stevenson; 3:45 p.m., Jacobs vs. Kirkwood. Afternoon round starts at 1:30 p.m.

HEAVY TRADE WINDS Blackfin Eyes Record

Combined News Services

Kenny Demause's ketch Blackfin took advantage of heavy trade winds to remain in the lead of the Transpacific Yacht race Friday.

Blackfin moved to within 618 miles of the Diamond Head finish line with a record in sight.

The San Francisco ship, 20 miles ahead of the pre-race favorite Windward Passage, is expected to cross the finish at 7:42 p.m. Honolulu time Sunday if the winds keep up.

The old mark is nine days, 13 hours, 51.2 minutes, set by Ticonderoga in 1965.

Eugene C. Bricker of Fresno, hit in the head by a spinnaker boom and in serious condition, was evacuated by the USS Black. The destroyer is

Other front runners were Pursuit, of San Francisco YC, now 772 miles from Diamond Head; Rascal, Santa Barbara YC, Kamli, Los Angeles YC and Queen Mab, California YC.

On corrected times, the Class "A" leaders were Dare, Sumatra and Rascal.

In Class "B" it was Nimble, Jubilation and tied for third Mystic and Salacia.

The Class "C" leaders were Quasar, Argonaut and Typee, owned by Llewellyn Bixby, Jr. and sailed out of the LAYC.

Gonzales Worn Out, Not Laver

Combined News Services

Defending U.S. Open Laver set up an all-Australian semifinal Friday night after Ken Rosewall wore down America's aging but gallant Pancho Gonzales in the $33,000 in the U.S. Pro Tennis Championships in Brookline, Mass.

Laver, the undisputed king of world tennis, posted a 6-3, 10-8 victory over the Netherlands' Tom Oker, to join countryman John Newcombe, Ken Rosewall and unseeded Fred Stolle in moving through the quarter-finals. Laver will meet Rosewall and Newcombe will play Stolle today.

Top-seeded Arthur Ashe used his powerful serve to riddle Australia's Bill Bowrey, 8-6, 6-0, and became the only American to reach the semifinals in the $25,000 Washington Star tennis tournament.

Seventh-seeded Cliff Richey, and unranked Charlie Pasarell, two other U.S. Davis Cuppers, were eliminated in surprising fashion.

Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia upset Roy Emerson of Australia, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, and reached the final of the Irish Open Tennis championships in Dublin.

In the women's final Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach meets Britain's Virginia Wade.

Eric Van Dillen, an obscure 18-year-old Californian, sprung the biggest upset to date in the U.S. Amateur Tennis Championships in Rochester, N.Y., by eliminating Second-seeded Joaquin Loyo-Mayo, the Mexican Davis Cup star, 6-8, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2 in a spectacular quarter-final match.

Sweden's Eva Luqunqvist upset Kazuko Sawamatsu of Japan 7-5, 6-1, and vaulted into a semifinal meeting with top-seeded Peaches Bolkowicz of Hantramek, Mich., in the Swedish Tennis Championships.

SUPERSONIC SURPRISE, AL BIANCHI RESIGNS

SEATTLE (UPI) — Al Bianchi announced Friday he is resigning as coach of the Seattle Supersonics of the National Basketball Assn.

In his two years with the Sonics, his teams compiled a record of 53 wins and 111 losses.

"My approach to our situation has not produced the results I want and I feel perhaps someone with a different philosophy and approach would get more out of our players," he said.

Bianchi still had one year left on a three-year contract. General manager Dick Vertlieb said, "I am stunned by Al's decision to resign."

Bianchi said he reached the decision Monday after he had talked to club owner Sam Schulman.

Watkins Glen Record for McLaren, Hulme

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (AP) — New Zealanders Bruce McLaren and Dennis Hulme posted an all-time lap record for the Watkins Glen course Friday while a sleek new French Matra moved in to challenge Porsche's domination of international endurance racing.

McLaren and Hulme, preparing for Sunday's third event in the $1 million Canadian-American Challenge Cup series of road races, were credited with laps of 132.11 and 131.68 miles per hour, respectively, in their bright Orange Group 7 cars designed and built by McLaren.

The fastest previous lap by any machine for the demanding 2.3-mile Glen course was 128.97 mph by Mario Andretti during the 1968 U.S. Grand Prix for Formula 1 cars.

Porsche, which already has won the international constructors' title, had the fastest practice times for Saturday's 6-hour race for prototype and grand touring cars. But the two Matras, particularly one driven by Frenchman Johnny Servoz-Gavin, served notice they will have to be reckoned with in the future if not in Saturday's race.

England's John Surtees, driving a Chevrolet-powered McLaren, redesigned by Texan Jim Hall, had the next best time for the Can-Am group. He was clocked at 128.57.

Lakewood Nine, San Bernardino Duel Tonight

Versatility is the key to success for the Lakewood Falcons.

Nearly every member can play any position. Jim Vickers, who recently joined the team, has played all infield spots and is hitting at a .400 clip. He will start at second base when the Falcons host San Bernardino in a doubleheader at Mayfair Park, 7:30 tonight.

Jim Johnson has replaced the injured Jerry Cooper.

GETTING THE JOB DONE

Santa Clara Swim Club's Brian Job bettered listed world record in 200-meter breaststroke Friday at Santa Clara International swim classic with time of 2:25.8, but was four-tenths off pending world mark.

Spitz Equals World Butterfly Standard; Fassnacht Winner

SANTA CLARA (UPI) — Mark Spitz tied his own world record of 55.6 seconds in the 100-meter butterfly Friday in the third Santa Clara International Invitational swim meet.

Spitz, 19, of the Santa Clara Swim Club, won four medals in the Mexico City Olympics last year. He attends Indiana University.

Closely missing a world record as the three-day meet got under way was Brian Job, who was pursued by Olympic champion Felipe Munoz of Mexico every inch of the way in the 200-meter breaststroke.

Job, finished in 2:25.8, four-tenths off a pending world mark of Nikolai Pankin of Russia. Munoz was second in 2:27.8.

Foreign competitors took several events in the competition. Hans Fassnacht of Cal State Long Beach and West Germany set a European record at 4:08.2 in the 400-meter freestyle. Roland Matthes of East Germany did the 100-meter backstroke in 58.5, five-tenths off his own world mark.

Andrea Gyarmati of Hungary took the women's 100-meter butterfly in 1:06.6, tying her country's record.

Debbie Meyer of California who won three gold medals at Mexico City, won the women's 400-meter freestyle in 4:26.4.

She broke the meet record by three seconds. Second was Ann Simmons of the Lakewood Aquatic Club in 4:31.9. Seeded ninth, she established a Southern Pacific Assn. record. Debbie and Ann now are 1-2 in the world in this event this year.

Kaye Hall of Tacoma, Wash., the Olympic gold medalist in the 100-meter backstroke won her event at 1:07.1, a meet record, and Sharon Wichman of Fort Wayne, Ind., winner of the Olympic 200-meter breaststroke, was also a winner at 2:46.1.

Kim Brecht of Lakewood was fourth in the women's 200 breaststroke in 2:50.8.

Susie Atwood of Lakewood was second behind Miss Hall in 1:07.9, also bettering the Southern Pacific record, and ranking No. 2 in the world behind Kaye.

In the final events on Friday's schedule, the Lakewood Aquatic Club won the women's 400-meter medley relay in 4:38.3, and the Santa Clara Swim Club won the men's 400-meter medley relay in a meet-record 4:02.4.

Lakewood swimmers were Atwood backstroke, Kim Brecht breaststroke, Pam Lines butterfly, Bonnie Adair freestyle. The time bettered the Southern Pacific record.

Gary Hall, representing Phillips 66 of Long Beach, was second in the men's 400 freestyle, while teammates Julio Arango was seventh and Andy Strenk eighth.

Rams Trade Guillory on Eve of Training

By AL LARSON
Staff Writer

George Allen, who begins his fourth year as head football coach when the Rams open their summer training camp at Cal State Fullerton today, recorded his 42nd trade when he acquired linebacker Jim Purnell and two future draft choices Friday from Philadelphia in exchange for linebacker Tom Guillory.

You'll have to pardon Purnell if he's in a daze

when he reports Tuesday. The 27-year-old former Wisconsin player has been associated with four NFL teams in the past seven days.

"I was really let down when the Bears traded me to Atlanta," the six-year veteran said. "Then when the Falcons traded me to the Rams, I didn't know what to think. But I'm elated to be with the Rams," the 6-foot-3, 238-pounder said after hearing he would be reunited with Allen. Trader Allen originally signed Purnell as a free agent in 1964 when serving as defensive coach of the Bears.

"He's a hitter with a capital 'H,'" said Allen. And one Ram player can testify to that. Roman Gabriel still shudders recalling last December's battle with the Bears when he was knocked unconscious by Purnell's blindside tackle in the second quarter.

The Bears went on to klayo the Rams' Coastal Division hopes, 17-16, in the famous "lost down" encounter at the Coliseum.

Allen will greet 31 rookies and 17 veterans today. Players must report by midnight, with physicals and the issuing of equipment scheduled Sunday. Two-a-day workouts begin Monday.

The remainder of the veterans will check in on Saturday, the 19th, three weeks prior to the Aug. 8 pre-season opener against Dallas in the Coliseum.

Two of the Rams' three first-round draft choices, wide receiver Jim Seymour from Notre Dame and tight end Bob Klein from USC, will miss two weeks of camp because of the College All-Star game.

The club's other first-round pick, running back Larry Smith of Florida, will be on hand at Fullerton today even though he was invited to play in the Chicago classic Aug. 1.

"Larry is still recovering from a foot injury," explained Allen, "and his physician has advised him against playing in the All-Star game."

Two other rookies, linebacker John Pergine from Notre Dame and place-kicker Don Martin from Washington, are excused from the first week of camp because of service obligations.

Heading the list of veterans reporting today are Gabriel, Jack Snow and Les Josephson. Also checking in early will be three newcomers: a fourth in recent trades — quarterback Karl Sweetan, defensive back Jim Nettles and linebacker Dick Absher.

JACOBS MAN TO BEAT...

up, while he finished strong against Creavy, making birds on Nos. 11, 12 and 13, and cagling 14.

Jacobs was 10-under-par for the day, one better than Hunter, who made four birdies and an eagle against Monty Blodgett, 4-3, and three birds and an eagle against Tom Rupnik, 2-1.

Just the opposite was Merrins, who had nerves of steel in outlasting old Joe Calwell in 27 holes, three shy of the record 30 set in 1954 when Ralph Evans beat Fay Coleman.

Calwell missed a 2-foot putt on the 18th to force the overtime, then also dropped a 20-foot birdie on No. 25, only to see Merrins can a 12-footer. Merrins' winning putt also was from 12 feet after Calwell failed from 20.

A morning match, it ended at 2:40 p.m. In the afternoon, Merrins eliminated Don White, 4-3, a man who threw eight birdies at Monte Sanders in the morning, then had to wait 2½ hours to meet Merrins.

Powell flashed some of last year's brilliance, making five birdies, no bogeys in each of his wins, 3-2 over Red Wiley and 2-1 over Paul McGuire.

Steelsmith, runnerup at the Azalea Open in 1962 and Alameda Open in 1964, carded a 67 to nip Larry Mancour, 1 up, in the morning, then watched Brian Lake bogey himself out of contention in the afternoon, 7-6.

"I played marvelous golf against Monty," said the 40-year-old Hunter, "but I was shaky in the afternoon."

Stevenson, who has yet to go past the 15th hole, toppled Tom Barber, 4-3, and Wayne Otis, 6-5, by shooting 2-under in both matches.

Clark won the 17th and 18th holes to oust Cecil Harris 2 up, then survived another cliffhanger against Mike Korich, 1 up. Korich won the 17th with a bird and lipped out from 12 feet on the 18th that would have prolonged the match.

Upper bracket: Jimmy Powell (Yorba Linda), 5 under, def. Red Wiley (Inglewood) 3-2; Paul McGuire (San Gabriel), 4 under, def. Babe Lazane (Bakersfield) 2-1; Jerry Steelsmith (Bakersfield), 5 under, def. Larry Mancour (Glendora) 3-2; Brian Lake (Scottsdale), 3 under, def. Eric Monti (Hillcrest) 19th hole; Mac Hunter (Rowland), 5 under, def. Monty Blodgett (Viroflima) 4-3; Tom Rupnik (Alondra), 1 over, def. Emil Scodeller (Anaheim) 2-1; Eddie Merrins (Red Air), 4 under, def. Joe Calwell (Orange) 27th hole; Don White (Rowland), 5 under, def. Monte Sanders (Santa Barbara) 2-1.

Lower bracket: Bobby Clark (Anaheim Valley), 1 under, def. Cecil Harris (Montecito) 2 up; Mike Korich (Hillcrest), 1 under, def. Darrell Hickok (Via Vanda) 1 up; Pinky Stevenson (Viroflima), 2 under, def. Tom Barber (Griffith Park) 4-3; Wayne Otis (Citrigo Driving Range), 1 under, def. Eddie Susta (La Costa) 6-4; Tommy Jacobs (La Costa), 4 under, def. Bill Train (Alhambra) 6-4; Bill Greivy (San Bernardino), 3 under, def. Walt Bradley (El Tor) 3-1; Paul Scodeller (El Monte), 4 under, def. Sam Randolph (La Cumbre) 3-2; Joe Kirkwood (Studio City), 1 over, def. Manuel Quizada (Calmar) 19th hole.

Afternoon round: Powell, 5 under, def. McGuire 2-1; Steelsmith, 1 under, def. Lake 7-6; Hunter, 4 under, def. Rupnik 2-1; Clark, 2 under, def. Korich 1 up; Stevenson, 1 under, def. Otis 6-5; Jacobs, 4 under, def. Blodgett 5-3; Kirkwood, even, def. Scodeller 19th hole.

Today's pairings: 9:30 a.m., Powell vs. Steelsmith; 9:45, Hunter vs. Merrins; 9:40, Clark vs. Stevenson; 9:45, Jacobs vs. Blodgett. Afternoon round starts at 1:30 p.m.

HEAVY TRADE WINDS

Blackfin Eyes Record

Combined News Services

Kenny Demause's ketch Blackfin took advantage of heavy trade winds to remain in the lead of the Transpacific Yacht race Friday.

Blackfin moved to within 618 miles of the Diamond Head finish line with a record in sight.

The San Francisco ship, 20 miles ahead of the pre-race favorite Windward Passage, is expected to cross the finish at 7:42 p.m. Honolulu time Sunday if the winds keep up.

The old mark is nine days, 13 hours, 51.2 minutes, set by Ticonderoga in 1965.

Eugene C. Bricker of Fresno, hit in the head by a spinnaker boom and in serious condition, was evacuated by the USS Black. The destroyer is

Other front runners were Pursuit, of San Francisco YC, now 772 miles from Diamond Head; Rascal, Santa Barbara YC; Kamlii, Los Angeles YC and Queen Mab, California YC.

On corrected times, the Class "A" leaders were Darc, Sumatra and Rascal. In Class "B" it was Nimble, Jubilation and tied for third Mystic and Salacia.

The Class "C" leaders were Quasar, Argonaut and Typee, owned by Llewellyn Bixby, Jr. and sailed out of the LAYC.

Gonzales Worn Out, Not Laver

Combined News Services

Defending titlist Rod Laver set up an all-Australian semifinal Friday night after Ken Rosewall wore down America's aging but gallant Pancho Gonzales in the $33,000 in the U.S. Pro Tennis Championships in Brookline, Mass.

Laver, the undisputed king of world tennis, posted a 6-3, 10-8 victory over the Netherlands' Tom Oker, to join countrymen John Newcombe, Ken Rosewall and unseeded Fred Stolle in moving through the quarter-finals. Laver will meet Rosewall and Newcombe will play Stolle today.

Top-seeded Arthur Ashe used his powerful serve to riddle Australia's Bill Bowrey, 8-6, 6-0, and became the only American to reach the semifinals in the $25,000 Washington Star tennis tournament.

Seventh-seeded Cliff Richey, and unranked Charlie Pasarell, two other U.S. Davis Cuppers, were eliminated in surprising fashion.

Nikki Pilic of Yugoslavia upset Roy Emerson of Australia, 4-6, 7-5, 6-3, and reached the final of the Irish Open Tennis championships in Dublin.

In the women's final Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach meets Britain's Virginia Wade.

Eric Van Dillen, an obscure 18-year-old Californian, sprung the biggest upset to date in the U.S. Amateur Tennis Championships in Rochester, N.Y., by eliminating Second-seeded Joaquin Loyo-Mayo, the Mexican Davis Cup star, 6-8, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4, 6-2 in a spectacular quarter-final match.

Sweeden's Eva Lunquist upset Kazuko Sawamatsu of Japan 7-5, 6-1, and vaulted into a semifinal meeting with top-seeded Peaches Batkovic of Hamtramck, Mich., in the Swedish Tennis Championships.

SUPERSONIC SURPRISE, AL BIANCHI RESIGNS

SEATTLE (UPI) — Al Bianchi announced Friday he is resigning as coach of the Seattle Supersonics of the National Basketball Assn.

In his two years with the Sonics, his teams compiled a record of 53 wins and 111 losses.

"My approach to our situation has not produced the results I want and I feel perhaps someone with a different philosophy and approach would get more out of our players," he said.

Bianchi still had one year left on a three-year contract. General manager Dick Vertlieb said, "I am stunned by Al's decision to resign."

Bianchi said he reached the decision Monday after he had talked to club owner Sam Schulman.

Watkins Glen Record for McLaren, Hulme

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y.

(UPI) — New Zealanders Bruce McLaren and Dennis Hulme posted an all-time lap record for the Watkins Glen course Friday while a sleek new French Matra moved in to challenge Porsche's domination of international endurance racing.

McLaren and Hulme, preparing for Sunday's third event in the $1 million Canadian-American Challenge Cup series of road races, were credited with laps of 132.31 and 131.68 miles per hour, respectively, in their bright Orange Group 7 cars designed and built by McLaren.

The fastest previous lap by any machine for the demanding 2.3-mile Glen course was 128.97 mph by Mario Andretti during the 1968 U.S. Grand Prix for Formula 1 cars.

Showers 'Threaten' Hollypark

One of Hollywood Park's oldest and most cherished records, 349 consecutive days of fast track competition dating back to June 11, 1964, was endangered shortly before first post Thursday when a freak electrical storm forced early arrivals to take cover.

The brief rain shower lasted approximately 10 minutes but halted before the horses entered the paddock to be saddled for the opening six-furlong contest.

Not since July 10, 1957 has rain fallen during a Hollywood Park program, and the "track fast" sign has been hung on the infield tote board for every program since June 11, 1964.

Four-year-old Canterbury Road equaled the course and American record for five furlongs on the turf as he streaked to a one-length victory over heavily-favored Time To Leave in the featured Fashion Industry Club handicap.

With Larry Gilligan aboard, Canterbury Road roared down the inside of the turf oval to steam past his speedy feminine rival in the final 70 yards, getting to the wire in .56 2-5, which equals the clocking registered by Time To Leave in her last try at the distance. Getting his second win of the meeting and the year, Canterbury Road returned $19.40, $5 and $2.80.

Baeza to Try Turf Twin Bill

Associated Press

Braulio Baeza will take a helicopter trip this afternoon from Aqueduct on New York's Long Island to Monmouth Park on the New Jersey shore in hopes of winning both the $81,900 Dwyer Handicap at Aqueduct and the $114,800 Amory L. Haskell Handicap at Monmouth Park.

Baeza will ride King of the Castle, 120, expected to be a top choice in the Dwyer, and then will hop to Jersey where he will be up on top-weighted Mr. Right, 120, in the Haskell.

As the winner of the Dwyer will get $53,235 and the winner of the Haskell will take home $74,620, it is possible that Baeza could wind up with a 10 per cent rider's share of $127,855 for the afternoon.

The Haskell at Monmouth has a field of 12 with Mr. Right conceding from four to 19 pounds to his rivals.

A field of six 3-year-olds will go in the Dwyer where Jay Ray, 119, with Manuel Ycaza up, is the likely chief contention for Baeza's King of the Castle over the 1 1/4-mile distance.

CHRIST MINISTERS TO THE MULTITUDE

Area Youth Among 250 in Zurich

A Long Beach resident will attend worship services Saturday, July 19, in a quiet valley of northern Italy, once the scene of a bloody persecution of Christians.

He is Chris Goad, 4921 Oregon Ave., a local representative to a World Youth Congress of the Seventh-day Adventist Church which will be held July 22-26 in Zurich, Switzerland.

Young Goad will worship at outdoor services in a valley near Torre Pellice, Italy, where a band of Christians called the Waldenses sought refuge from church leaders because they denied papal authority and the existence of purgatory.

The local resident will worship with some 250 other representatives from the western U.S. at the outdoor worship service.

TRUMPET FANFARE OPENS ANNUAL PAGEANT
Bible and the Book of Mormon Depicted on Stage

Cumora Site of '69 Spectacle

PALMYRA, N.Y. — Nearby Hill Cumora, site of the spectacular annual Mormon Pageant, will have a "new look" for the 100,000 visitors at this year's production the week of July 28-August 2.

Extensive improvements and expansion of facilities have been made necessary by the constantly increasing size of the audiences and the casts in recent years.

Major changes either completed or being rushed to completion include widening of the seating and staging areas, widening and heightening of the water curtains, an entire new distribution system for sound and lighting, with seven miles of underground wiring; and a 100-seat theater for movies and slide films.

"All these improvements will do much to enhance the comfort, convenience and enjoyment of our guests," said Dr. Harold I. Hansen, director of the Hill Cumora Pageant since its inception 32 years ago.

Dr. Hansen recalled when he produced his first Pageant in 1937, the only building on the Hill Cumora grounds was a small caretaker's cottage, and that he made do with borrowed costumes, rented lights, a few loudspeakers and improvised dressing rooms.

The more than 100,000 persons from all over the United States and many foreign lands journeying to Hill Cumora in the Finger Lakes Region of Western New York Monday through Saturday, July 28 to August 2, will witness a spectacle unique in all the world.

This will be the dramatization of the triumphs and tribulations, the birth and destruction of an entire civilization — an ancient American civilization.

SPEAKER

Mrs. Stuart LeRoy Anderson, wife of the former pastor of First Congregational Church, will speak at a book review meeting at 10 a.m. Thursday at the church.

NAMED

Dr. Julius Robbins, past president of Temple Israel in Long Beach, is the new vice president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations in the Pacific Southwest Council.

GOINGS ON Summer Listings for L.B. Churches

The Christ Lutheran Church, 6500 Stearns Ave., is sponsoring a free summer day camp on Wednesdays through Sept. 3 at the Carmelitos Recreation Center, 5148 Atlantic Ave., for children from pre-school age to the seventh grade. The camp, open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., will provide Bible lessons, crafts, music, field trips and a free lunch.

Rev. Dick Mills, a noted evangelist, will speak at the Christian Center Church, 1340 N. Candlerwood St., Anaheim, Sunday at 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

A pot-luck barbecue will be held at the Christian Community Church, located at the Lafayette Hotel, 140 Linden Ave., Sunday following the 10 a.m. worship service. Dr. A. W. Morey, a resident of the hotel, will deliver the sermon.

Dr. Arthur L. Bietz, a psychologist at the Glendale Hospital, will speak Sunday at the Crest Theater, 4275 Atlantic Ave., on the topic, "Knowing Your Own Worth." His lecture is sponsored by the Long Beach Church of Religious Science, 505 E. 36th St.

Mrs. Raymond A. Sites, 3555 Rose Ave., was recently elected a member of the national budget committee of the United Church of Christ at its national convention in Boston, Mass. The two-million-member United Church is a combination of the Congregational and Reformed Churches. More than 1500 delegates attended the convention.

Joseph M. Copeland, international coordinator for the Pocket Testament League, will discuss "The Christian Church Behind the Iron Curtain Today" at the Community Grace Brethren Church, 5885 Downey Ave., Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Copeland recently returned from Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

Vacation church school will be held at the West-

FROM THE PULPIT

The Singing Johnson Family from Indianapolis will be featured in our services this Sunday morning and night. This unique family group is popular for their renditions of Gospel songs a cappella style. After a good two weeks rest it will be my pleasure to be back in my own pulpit for the 9:45 hour, and to speak again at both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services.

If you are vacationing in our area and looking for a good church to attend, let me invite you to Calvary. You won't be disappointed. Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

Five Hundred Performers Ready for New Jersey Pageant

Area Youth Among 250 in Zurich

A Long Beach resident will attend worship services Saturday, July 19, in a quiet valley of northern Italy, once the scene of a bloody persecution of Christians.

He is Chris Goad, 4921 Oregon Ave., a local representative to a World Youth Congress of the Seventh-day Adventist Church which will be held July 22-26 in Zurich, Switzerland.

Young Goad will worship at outdoor services in a valley near Torre Pellice, Italy, where a band of Christians called the Waldenses sought refuge from church leaders because they denied papal authority and the existence of purgatory.

The local resident will worship with some 250 other representatives from the western U.S. at the outdoor worship service.

TRUMPET FANFARE OPENS ANNUAL PAGEANT
Bible and the Book of Mormon Depicted on Stage

Cumorah Site of '69 Spectacle

PALMYRA, N.Y. — Nearby Hill Cumorah, site of the spectacular annual Mormon Pageant, will have a "new look" for the 100,000 visitors at this year's production the week of July 28-August 2.

Extensive improvements and expansion of facilities have been made necessary by the constantly increasing size of the audiences and the casts in recent years.

Major changes either completed or being rushed to completion include widening of the seating and staging areas, widening and heightening of the water curtains, an entire new distribution system for sound and lighting, with seven miles of underground wiring; and a 100-seat theater for movies and slide films.

"All these improvements will do much to enhance the comfort, convenience and enjoyment of our guests," said Dr. Harold I. Hansen, director of the Hill Cumorah Pageant since its inception 32 years ago.

Dr. Hansen recalled when he produced his first Pageant in 1937, the only building on the Hill Cumorah grounds was a small caretaker's cottage, and that he made do with borrowed costumes, rented lights, a few loudspeakers and improvised dressing rooms.

The more than 100,000 persons from all over the United States and many foreign lands journeying to Hill Cumorah in the Finger Lakes Region of Western New York Monday through Saturday, July 28 to August 2, will witness a spectacle unique in all the world.

This will be the dramatization of the triumphs and tribulations, the birth and destruction of an entire civilization — an ancient American civilization.

SPEAKER

Mrs. Stuart LeRoy Anderson, wife of the former pastor of First Congregational Church, will speak at a book review meeting at 10 a.m. Thursday at the church.

NAMED

Dr. Julius Robbins, past president of Temple Israel in Long Beach, is the new vice president of the Union of American Hebrew Congregations in the Pacific Southwest Council.

GOINGS ON Summer Listings for L.B. Churches

The Christ Lutheran Church, 6500 Stearns Ave., is sponsoring a free summer day camp on Wednesdays through Sept. 3 at the Carmelitos Recreation Center, 5148 Atlantic Ave., for children from pre-school age to the seventh grade. The camp, open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., will provide Bible lessons, crafts, music, field trips and a free lunch.

Rev. Dick Mills, a noted evangelist, will speak at the Christian Center Church, 1340 N. Candlewood St., Anaheim, Sunday at 5:30 p.m. and 7:30 p.m.

A pot-luck barbecue will be held at the Christian Community Church, located at the Lafayette Hotel, 140 Linden Ave., Sunday following the 10 a.m. worship service. Dr. A. W. Morey, a resident of the hotel, will deliver the sermon.

Dr. Arthur L. Bietz, a psychologist at the Glendale Hospital, will speak Sunday at the Crest Theater, 4275 Atlantic Ave. on the topic, "Knowing Your Own Worth." His lecture is sponsored by the Long Beach Church of Religious Science, 505 E. 36th St.

Mrs. Raymond A. Sites, 3555 Rose Ave., was recently elected a member of the national budget committee of the United Church of Christ at its national convention in Boston, Mass. The two-million-member United Church is a combination of the Congregational and Reformed churches. More than 1500 delegates attended the convention.

Joseph M. Copeland, international coordinator for the Pocket Testament League, will discuss "The Christian Church Behind the Iron Curtain Today" at the Community Grace Brethren Church, 5885 Downey Ave., Sunday at 7:30 p.m. Copeland recently returned from Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia.

Vacation church school will be held at the Westminster Community Church, 2474 Pacific Ave. July 21 to 25, and at St. John's Baptist Church, 741 E. 10th St. July 25 to August 1. The school, open from 9 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., is a joint venture by the two churches.

Sacramental wine from the vineyards of Jerusalem will be used in communion Sunday at 11 a.m. at the Moore Memorial Methodist Senior Citizens Church, 301 Linden Ave. Minister of the church, Dr. H. M. Eagleson, obtained the Holy Land wine from the Defense Minister of Israel, Mrs. Golda Meir.

Dr. Duane Day, minister of the First Congregational Church, 241 Cedar Avenue, will repeat the Sunday sermon on Thursday evenings at 7:30 during July and August. The Thursday service will enable people who cannot attend the Sunday service to worship during the week.

The emphasis will be on missionary work in Africa at the vacation Bible school at the North Long Beach Brethren Church, 6095 Orange Ave., July 21 to August 1 from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. The freewill offering will help to build a baby clinic in Africa. The schools are open to elementary school children.

Beginning Sunday, the Trinity Lutheran Church, 11507 Studebaker Road, Norwalk, will change its worship service schedule. A fifteen minute liturgical service will be held at 9 a.m. followed by a half hour of Bible study. At 9:45 a.m. a full liturgical service will be held. A three-week course in Bible teaching will begin July 14 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. William Myheim, the new principal of Trinity's elementary school, will be installed in the church this month and begin his new duties Aug. 1. A pool party will be held for Trinity's couples July 18 at 7:30 p.m. at 10830 Gard St., Santa Fe Springs.

Pope OKs Shift in Baptism Rites

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope Paul VI has announced a change in the Roman Catholic rite of infant baptism, putting more emphasis on the responsibilities of parents, godparents and others who attend the baptism.

The Vatican said the new form is "better adapted to the real condition of the children."

FROM THE PULPIT

The Singing Johnson Family from Indianapolis will be featured in our services this Sunday morning and night. This unique family group is popular for their renditions of Gospel songs accapella style. After a good two weeks rest it will be my pleasure to be back in my own pulpit for the 9:45 hour, and to speak again at both the 11 a.m. and 7 p.m. services.

If you are vacationing in our area and looking for a good church to attend, let me invite you to Calvary. You won't be disappointed. Come to Calvary! Calvary is for you!

Hope a Vital Life Force

By NORMAN V. PEALE

One of the most important attitudes of mind that a human being can possess is hope. In fact, life can be good despite anything if you keep hope working for you.

Walking on the street in New York City recently, I met a man who proceeded to enlighten me meticulously on how bad everything was. I listened to him for at least fifteen minutes in which I did not hear one hopeful or optimistic expression. Finally after a most dismal exhortation, he said, "I'm down at the bottom. The only thing I have left is hope."

"Congratulations!" I said.

He looked at me in surprise. "What are you congratulating me about?"

"Why," I replied, "you told me you'd lost everything, but you just admitted that you still had hope. That's great, for with hope, that undefeatable mental attitude, you can climb back up out of your failures."

Cultivate the feeling of hope whatever you do. "But," you may say, "things have gone very badly for me; things are indeed hopeless." Tell me, do you really think it's hopeless, or could it be that you're only thinking hopelessly about it?

In the office of a friend, I noticed a very old lithograph on his wall representing a sea beach where the tide was out. High up on this beach was a big sluggish scow with oars resting listlessly and dejectedly on the sand. Underneath the picture was this inscription: "The tide always comes back."

I was rather taken by the picture and was told by this man that when he was a young salesman, everything seemed to fail for him. Just about then he was calling on a hoped-for customer when he saw this picture on the wall. He told the customer how disconsolate and discouraged he felt and the man replied, "Well, the reason I have that picture up there is because years ago when I was a young salesman feeling as low as I could get, I walked into a customer's office and saw that same picture. When the man died, I'd spoken so highly of the picture that his widow gave it to me and it's been in my office ever since."

My friend said rather jealously, "Well, when you die, how about leaving the picture to me?" And now it was in the third generation of its service in helping people overcome hopelessness.

An 87-year-old man was killed by a truck and died in the street. He'd been outwardly healthy and active. The surgeon who performed the autopsy said to his widow, "Madam, your husband must have been a very remarkable man, for I have examined his organs and this man had enough wrong with him that he should have died 30 years ago. It's amazing. I can't understand how a man with all that was wrong with him on the inside lived as long as he did. How do you explain it?"

"Well," she said, "I don't really know except that my husband always had an optimistic point of view. He never went to bed any night of his life that he didn't say, 'I'm going to be better tomorrow.' And" she added, "he was always saying 'I have hope.'"

I once read an article by a Scottish preacher on the subject of profanity. It was headed "What is the most profane word in the English language?" What word would you say? To my surprise I discovered that this Scotsman contended that the word, which above all others, is absolutely profane is the word "hopeless."

'MOST UNUSUAL' GROUP
From the world's "most unusual university" comes this vocal group of five young men. They are students at Bob Jones University in North Carolina, and they'll perform at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, July 20, at First Brethren Church, 3801 Linden Ave. The group includes, from left, David Krebs, Andy Morris, Keith Wiebe, David Lehman and David Kiewiet.

Film Venture May Flop; No Support

An attempt to put good Christian film on the market may fail because of the failure of Christians to respond to films of this nature, a Long Beach man says.

The movie "Childish Things", which has completed two weeks showing at the Music Hall Theatre in Beverly Hills, will not be given broad distribution unless the size of the audience picks up next week, according to Edward Schultz, a local film spokesman.

The movie, which has received outstanding reviews, portrays the life of former Golden Gloves boxer Tom Harris and is produced by and stars actor Don Murray.

Other stars are Lynda Evans (daughter of Barbara Stanwyck) and David Brian. Harris's downfall was alcohol, which began when he went into the Army at the age of 14.

Kicked out of the Army, he went into the Navy and got a General Court Martial in 1945, and served 21 months in jail on Terminal Island.

He was arrested 21 times and finally gave his life to the Lord in 1949. Harris is now a movie stunt man, and spends much of his time helping men in prison.

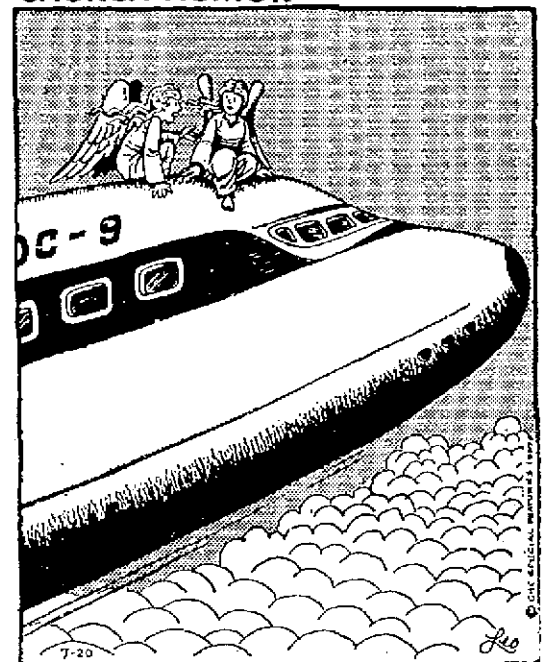

"The movie can only be saved if many individuals or large groups get together and see the film," said Schultz. Groups can have the cost reduced 50 per cent to $1.50 each by calling in reservations to CR 4-6869.

If the film succeeds, the film makers will be very encouraged to go on to bigger and better films like "The Cross and Switchblade," which is now being given very serious consideration, Schultz said.

SACRED CONCERT
Robert Hale (left), leading bass-baritone with the New York City Opera Company, and Dean Wilder, leading tenor for three seasons with the Goldovsky Opera Theater, will be presented in sacred concert at 8 p.m. Friday at Church of the Nazarene, 17200 Clark Ave., Bellflower. In addition to their individual performances in opera, oratorio and in recital, the pair have presented more than 200 concerts nationwide.

CHURCH HUMOR

"If the Lord had intended us to fly this way, he would have given us tickets."

New Plan Drawn for Jerusalem

JERUSALEM — The Jerusalem Committee, an international panel of experts in town planning, art and history, has endorsed a vast rehabilitation plan drawn up by Israeli authorities for the area outside the walls of the old city.

After a week of study, the 42 advisers from 19 nations declared a projected Jerusalem Park "satisfactory" and said it would serve to reinforce the unity of the city.

The 600-acre park would completely surround the historic walls of the old city and introduce far-reaching changes in the western and southern approaches, almost all of it within the sector annexed by Israel after the 1967 war.

CHRISTIAN WORD BOOK By J. Sherrell Hendricks, Gene E. Sease, Eric Lane Titus and James Bryan Wiggins. Abingdon Press, $3.95.
"Host," we learn from this fascinating collection of Christian word lore, is from the Latin "hostia," meaning "victim" or "sacrifice." We are speaking, of course, about the unleavened bread held high in the Eucharist services and offered as the sacrifice of Christ's body, and then eaten by the communicants.
We learn too, that the "Kiddush" (sanctification), the Jewish ceremony introducing the sabbath, is seen by some scholars as similar to the Lord's Supper; the latter, they believe, grew out of the former.
There are many words used by Christians in particular; but not too many know their real meanings, familiar as a great number of the expressions may be. This book analyzes and interprets some 600 such terms, phrases and ideas. — N.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS TO YOU

Hope a Vital Life Force

By NORMAN V. PEALE

One of the most important attitudes of mind that a human being can possess is hope. In fact, life can be good despite anything if you keep hope working for you.

Walking on the street in New York City recently, I met a man who proceeded to enlighten me meticulously on how bad everything was. I listened to him for at least fifteen minutes in which I did not hear one hopeful or optimistic expression. Finally after a most dismal exhortation, he said, "I'm down at the bottom. The only thing I have left is hope."

"Congratulations!" I said. He looked at me in surprise. "What are you congratulating me about?"

"Why," I replied, "you told me you'd lost everything, but you just admitted that you still had hope. That's great, for with hope, that undefeatable mental attitude, you can climb back up out of your failures."

Cultivate the feeling of hope whatever you do. "But," you may say, "things have gone very badly for me; things are indeed hopeless." Tell me, do you really think it's hopeless, or could it be that you're only thinking hopelessly about it?

In the office of a friend, I noticed a very old lithograph on his wall representing a sea beach where the tide was out. High up on this beach was a big sluggish scow with oars resting listlessly and dejectedly on the sand. Underneath the picture was this inscription: "The tide always comes back."

I was rather taken by the picture and was told by this man that when he was a young salesman, everything seemed to fail for him. Just about then he was calling on a hoped-for customer when he saw this picture on the wall. He told the customer how disconsolate and discouraged he felt and the man replied, "Well, the reason I have that picture up there is because years ago when I was a young salesman feeling as low as I could get, I walked into a customer's office and saw that same picture. When the man died, I'd spoken so highly of the picture that his widow gave it to me and it's been in my office ever since."

My friend said rather jealously, "Well, when you die, how about leaving the picture to me?" And now it was in the third generation of its service in helping people overcome hopelessness.

An 87-year-old man was killed by a truck and died in the street. He'd been outwardly healthy and active. The surgeon who performed the autopsy said to his widow, "Madam, your husband must have been a very remarkable man, for I have examined his organs and this man had enough wrong with him that he should have died 30 years ago. It's amazing. I can't understand how a man with all that was wrong with him on the inside lived as long as he did. How do you explain it?"

"Well," she said, "I don't really know except that my husband always had an optimistic point of view. He never went to bed any night of his life that he didn't say, 'I'm going to be better tomorrow.' And" she added, "he was always saying 'I have hope.'"

I once read an article by a Scottish preacher on the subject of profanity. It was headed "What is the most profane word in the English language?" What word would you say? To my surprise I discovered that this Scotsman contended that the word, which above all others, is absolutely profane is the word "hopeless."

'MOST UNUSUAL' GROUP

From the world's "most unusual university" comes this choral group of five young men. They are students at Bob Jones University in North Carolina, and they'll perform at 10:45 a.m. Sunday, July 20, at First Brethren Church, 3601 Linden Ave. The group includes, from left, David Krebs, Andy Morris, Keith Wiebe, David Lehman and David Kiewiet.

Film Venture May Flop; No Support

An attempt to put good Christian film on the market may fail because of the failure of Christians to respond to films of this nature, a Long Beach man says.

The movie "Childish Things", which has completed two weeks showing at the Music Hall Theatre in Beverly Hills, will not be given broad distribution unless the size of the audience picks up next week, according to Edward Schultz, a local film spokesman.

The movie, which has received outstanding reviews, portrays the life of former Golden Gloves boxer Tom Harris and is produced by and stars actor Don Murray.

Other stars are Lynda Evans (daughter of Barbara Stanwyck) and David Brian. Harris' downfall was alcohol, which began when he went into the Army at the age of 14.

Kicked out of the Army, he went into the Navy and got a General Court Martial in 1945, and served 21 months in jail on Terminal Island.

He was arrested 21 times and finally gave his life to the Lord in 1949. Harris is now a movie stunt man, and spends much of his time helping men in prison.

"The movie can only be saved if many individuals or large groups get together and see the film," said Schultz. Groups can have the cost reduced 50 per cent to $1.50 each by calling in reservations to CR 4-6869.

If the film succeeds, the film makers will be very encouraged to go on to bigger and better films like "The Cross and Switchblade," which is now being given very serious consideration, Schultz said.

New Plan Drawn for Jerusalem

Jerusalem — The Jerusalem Committee, an international panel of experts in town planning, art and history, has endorsed a vast rehabilitation plan drawn up by Israeli authorities for the area outside the walls of the old city.

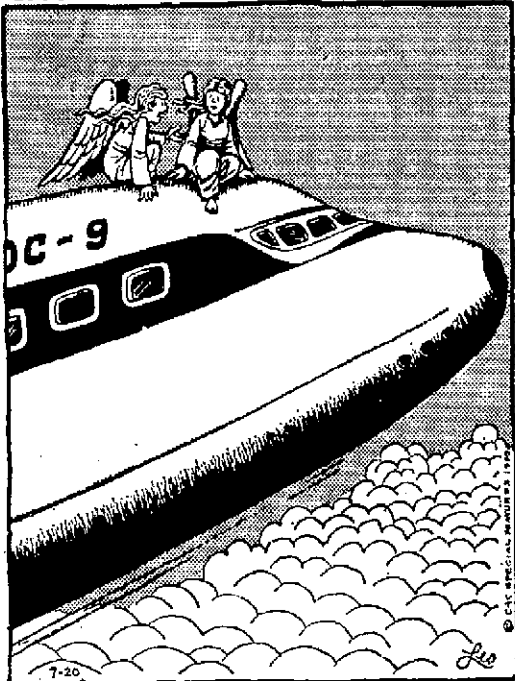

After a week of study, the 42 advisers from 19 nations declared a projected Jerusalem Park "satisfactory" and said it would serve to reinforce the unity of the city.

The 600-acre park would completely surround the historic walls of the old city and introduce far-reaching changes in the western and southern approaches, almost all of it within the sector annexed by Israel after the 1967 war.

GARDENING

* * * * *

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Evergreen pear trees are not fruit bearers, but are attractive, decorative, trees desirable for lawns or open space garden areas.

The most popular evergreen pear with shiny green leaves is the Pyrus Kawakami. It usually begins to bloom in January. The white blossoms look like snow flakes as they lazily and slowly drop off the tree.

Pyrus Calleryana branches tend to grow more upright. It develops into a shapely shade tree, but begins to flower about March, much later than the Kawakami. This variety may not be generally available but is obtainable. Willard Hagen one of the foremost tree authorities in S. California, an arboriculturist, was one of the first to introduce it.

PYRUS CALLERYANA... Evergreen Pear Tree

base. Mix some organic material and bone meal into the soil before re-planting the good iris. Plant the same variety a foot apart in groups of three, with the leaf ends of the rhizomes away from the center of the group. Top-surface area of the rhizome (thick-root stock with the roots growing out from the underside,) should be above the soil surface level. Give them lots of water until they become settled and show active growth. Water them as needed, thereafter.

SHOULD IT BE impossible for you to work over your bearded iris though they need it, then at least dig out the plants in the centers of the clumps, because they are the oldest. Refill sunken areas with good garden soil.

Undisturbed old outer foliage should be pulled off the iris then it should be fed a balanced plant food containing less nitrogen than phosphoric acid. Also scatter bone meal around the plants. Never feed any plants if the soil is dry and plants are thirsty. Water well first, then a day or so later feed and water in well.

This is an excellent opportunity to add new color varieties of iris, because they are available bare root at iris specialists' nurseries, and may be ordered by mail from iris specialists, or they can be purchased at local nurseries mostly bare root, occasionally in cans.

YOU'LL BE SORRY if you keep putting off planting some annuals in your sunny garden areas! Get them in as soon as you can. Be sure to plant two kinds of colorful foliage plants. Amaranthus should go in sunny sections for fiery colors leafage, and coleus in at least half sun and half shade locations.

William Young is a colorful hobbyist who grows them by careful seed selection, is developing showy leaf-colored coleus. He believes they need lots of sunshine to help the leaves develop full rich color capacity. They lose their rich colors in dense shade.

Q. About month or so ago, you had the name of a rose. It was a long name. I went to the nursery and they were out of them. Now I've lost the name. I do hope you remember it. I get this paper every day and I just didn't know what page it was on. I will keep watch from now on.

The rose was Montezuma. Incidentally, George E. Rose, Director of Public Relations, Box 218, Shenandoah, Iowa 51601, read my garden article, and he noticed my statement that I listed Montezuma rose as one of the All America Rose Selections (AARS) winners in the past. Q. In January 1967, we planted a six-foot-tall bare-root Goldmine Nectarine. This year it produced fruit for the first time. They all dropped off when about the size of a small pecan. The tree has had dormant spray, fertilizer, and gets adequate water. It appears healthy and is growing rapidly. Why did the fruit drop off before maturing? We look forward to your answer to our problem in your "Garden Clinic" column.

A. Vagaries of the unusual weather early this year have affected fruit trees considerably. The trees in some localities didn't form the fruit. Those that did, dropped off when small. Your two-year-old tree should be about ready for next year. If the small formed fruit then is too thickly clustered, thin it out, (snap off) spacing the fruit about four inches apart.

GARDENING

By JOE LITTLEFIELD

Evergreen pear trees are not fruit bearers, but are attractive, decorative, trees desirable for lawns or open space garden areas.

The most popular evergreen pear with shiny green leaves is the Pyrus kawakami. It usually begins to bloom in January. The white blossoms look like snow flakes as they lazily and slowly drop off the tree.

Pyrus Calleryana branches tend to grow more upright. It develops into a shapely shade tree, but begins to flower about March, much later than the kawakami. This variety may not be generally available but is obtainable. Willard Hagen one of the foremost tree authorities in S. California, an arboriculturist, was one of the first to introduce it.

TREES NEED just as much care in planting as do shrubs or flowers. Mix some organic material with the soil dug out in making the hole for the tree, then plant it.

Tree roots should be encouraged to grow deeply to search for moisture whether growing in the ground, or in the lawn. Gardeners tend to feel that lawn watering furnishes the trees sufficient water. The lawn waterings don't provide enough moisture, hence trees in lawns should get additional periodic deep-waterings. A common hose end sprinkler attached to the garden hose, that throws out a full fountain-like spray as does a sprinkler head of a sprinkler system, is effective for such deep-soaking. Another good deep waterer is a hose soil soaker.

BEARDED IRIS need some attention now. Old knobby clumps of thickly grown iris should be dug up, separated, and young ones replanted. Cut back the foliage of those you'll replant to within four to six inches of the leafage base. Mix some organic material and bone meal into the soil before re-planting the good iris. Plant the same variety a foot apart in groups of three, with the leaf ends of the rhizomes away from the center of the group. Top-surface area of the rhizome (thick-root stock with the roots growing out from the underside), should be above the soil surface level. Give them lots of water until they become settled and show active growth. Water them as needed, thereafter.

SHOULD IT BE impossible for you to work over your bearded iris through they need it, then at least dig out the plants in the centers of the clumps, because they are the oldest. Refill sunken areas with good garden soil.

Undisturbed old outer foliage should be pulled off the iris then it should be fed a balanced plant food containing less nitrogen than phosphoric acid. Also scatter bone meal around the plants. Never feed any plants if the soil is dry and plants are thirsty. Water well first, then a day or so later feed and water in well.

This is an excellent opportunity to add new color varieties of iris, because they are available bare root at iris specialists' nurseries, and may be ordered by mail from iris specialists, or they can be purchased at local nurseries mostly bare root, occasionally in cans.

YOU'LL BE SORRY if you keep putting off planting some annuals in your sunny garden areas! Get them in as soon as you can. Be sure to plant two kinds of colorful foliage plants. Amaranthus should go in sunny sections for fiery colors leafage, and coleus in at least half sun and half shade locations.

William Young is a co-leus hobbyist who grows them by careful seed selection, is developing showy leaf colored coleus. He believes they need lots of sunshine to help the leaves develop full rich color capacity. They lose their rich colors in dense shade.

Visiting Prof Tells of British Campus Woe

By WALT MURRAY
Staff Writer

Giving dissident students a greater voice in governing English universities has worked better than calling the police to campus, a British member of parliament teaching at California State College, Long Beach said Friday.

But, he said, most British campus disorders have been limited to demonstrations, sit-ins and peaceful occupation of college buildings.

Leslie Huckfield, the Labour Party's youngest member of parliament, is studying California colleges while serving as visiting summer professor at CSLB.

The 27-year-old member of the House of Commons, who wears a reddish-brown beard and colorful neckties, says English educators are keeping an eye on California schools "for a foretaste of what may happen on British campuses."

But although English students "have the same aspirations and slogans" as California students, "violence and revolutionary tactics" have been largely absent, he said.

He called most student demands "quite legitimate" and said universities can afford student participation "right up to the top levels," but feels students shouldn't overrule college faculties.

Huckfield emphasized he wasn't trying to tell Americans how to handle their campus disorders, but said he thought English authorities would do things differently.

"In England," he said, "bringing police on campus would encourage violent tactics by the students. It would confirm their revolutionary theories."

He said British educators who "held dialogue" with student activists had been most successful in solving campus crises.

He noted "as many as 90 per cent" of English students went to college on government grants.

"If the government even talks of withholding those grants, it exerts pressure on most students not to rebel," Huckfield said. "They've also seen that violence and property damage loses public support," he said.

Huckfield, elected to the House of Commons at 24, is sympathetic to charges by British and American students that their universities are overcrowded, impersonal and structured archaically.

He said Britain has its equivalent to the Students for a Democratic Society — the Radical Socialist Student Federation — but nothing like America's Black Student Union.

"On English campuses, there's more racial harmony than elsewhere," he said. "The universities lead the rest of the country in good race relations."

One reason for this, he said, is that black students in England come from varied backgrounds — many were born in Africa or the Caribbean islands.

"Colored students" make up 10 to 25 per cent of the student population at most British urban universities, he said.

Huckfield, who expects to remain in the Southland through the end of July, said he was "quite impressed" with "the quality of the political science department and the enthusiasm of the students" at Long Beach.

Police to Ask Council for Pay Raise, Benefits

By BILL GAGNON
Staff Writer

Stating "the people have a right to know", the Long Beach Police Officers Association said Friday they will present pay raise and fringe benefit proposals Wednesday directly to City Council.

Presenting the proposals for the police association will be Dr. Paul M. Whisenand, associate professor of criminology at California State College, Long Beach.

In seeking council approval of their requests the association is departing from its usual procedure of teaming with the Fire Department in matters of mutual concern.

"We're taking an academic approach that will not only be of benefit to police personnel, but to all Long Beach residents as well, if approved," Officer Carl Bloom, member of the three-man L.B.P.O.A. salary committee, said.

Each proposed item has been carefully researched and backed with supporting facts, Bloom said, and each is in line with those from other departments of comparable size in the state.

BLOOM POINTED OUT IF POLICE service is to be an attractive career opportunity, it must offer compensation competitive with other occupations or professions seeking men with education and ability.

"Police service — in Long Beach — presently does not offer competitive salaries to the college graduate or to other talented persons," he added.

While the police package seeks a 10.8 per cent salary increase for sworn personnel, City Mgr. John R. Mansell already has made a preliminary offer of 7.5 per cent.

Other items in the association package include: — A minimum educational requirement of 30 college units for department recruits.

— Creation of a new rank of "Police Agent," between patrolman and sergeant, for certain specialists, including detectives.

— Clothing maintenance allowance of $120 a year for all sworn officers.

— Additional pay for helicopter patrol personnel, and overtime pay.

Sun Saves Melon Feast From Bust

Friday's sudden thunderstorm produced more water than melons for a time at the 12th annual watermelon feed staged in 14 parks and 16 playgrounds by the Southeast Parks and Recreation District of La Mirada-Norwalk. But the sun staged a comeback in time for youngsters like

L.B. Man, Sailor Drown

By TOM WILLMAN
Staff Writer

A Long Beach man and a teen-age sailor drowned Friday in separate water accidents.

The victims were identified as 18-year-old Gary Hair of Oklahoma City, Okla., and 32-year-old Donald Matland, of 358 Winslow Ave.

Hair drowned when he disappeared while swimming after a stray football, about 150 yards offshore from pier 20 at the Long Beach Naval Base.

Navy divers recovered the body after attempts to do so by Hair's shipmates from the USS New Orleans failed, according to Patrolman Tom Beckman and Gary Sutton, who responded to the call.

In the other drowning,

Matland lost his life while attempting to aid his wife, Doris, who fell into the rushing waters of the Kaweah River in Sequoia National Park, while soaking her feet.

Park rangers said Mrs. Matland managed to cling to some rocks until rescued by telephone company employees and other rangers who heard her cries for help.

Matland, however, was carried downstream by the swiftly moving water and his body has not yet been recovered.

Tulare County Sheriff's Dept. divers are continuing their search for the body.

City Approves Day Care Clinic, Seeks Location

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

Action is under way toward establishment of a Neighborhood Facilities Center, including a child-care center, and the city soon will ask for federal funds to aid the project.

The City Council has approved "in principle" development of child care services, and instructed the city manager's office to proceed. "The need for child care services for those mothers who find it necessary to work has been recognized by community organizations and individuals for some time," explained City Manager John R. Mansell.

The noted lack of such facilities, particularly in the Central Area, was cited as "an item of major concern" in the 1966 survey by the Long Beach Community Welfare Council.

STATISTICS PROVIDED BY THE STATE Department of Employment and the Los Angeles County Department of Social Services indicate the problem is increasing in severity, Mansell said.

Community groups have been seeking solutions to the problem, and have suggested construction of a Neighborhood Facilities Center, with child-care services as a major component, Mansell said.

The city manager said his office has been studying construction of such a facility for some time, and has determined federal assistance is available for two-thirds of the cost, if the city will guarantee the use of the facility for its intended purposes for 20 years and that it have "adequate and continuous management."

The center also must offer "multiple services that are neighborhood oriented," Mansell said. He suggested the center be aimed at providing family, maternal and child-care needs.

Additional services could include a maternal and child health program, dental health, home management, communicable disease control, nutrition and health education, Head Start programs, volunteer community services, employment counseling and job placement, and various social services.

MANSSELL SAID ADMINISTRATION and control of the proposed facility must remain with the city, but suggested that management of the child-care program, or other programs offered, could be delegated some community agency or to the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities.

Because the facility would require an estimated 40,000 square feet, Mansell said, there is no city land that could be used, other than existing parks. Use of private property would raise the cost, not only because of the land value, but also because of possible relocation of homes or businesses, he said.

Estimated cost of the building on city property would be $275,000, but this would jump to about $485,000 if acquisition of the site is necessary, Mansell said.

Gunman Takes $4,000, Store Manager's Car

A gunman robbed a Compton market manager of $4,000 in a bank parking lot Friday and sped away in the victim's late-model auto.

The manager, Fernando Patino, 22, told detectives he had just withdrawn the cash for weekend use at Patino's Market, 2319 E. El Segundo Blvd.

Patino was on his way from the bank to his car when the bandit accosted him at 4:10 p.m.

EASTER'S MONSTERS

415 Roosters--Be Chicken 'til Dawn

DON SCHULTZ ROOSTER NEVER NABBED FDR 415 CROWING
Bum Jr. Is Loud, Boisterous and Unusual, But Always Prudent

By DICK EMERY

What, you may ask, is a 415 rooster?

Glad you brought that up!

Back in 1877, the Legislature wrote into law Section 415 of the California Penal Code.

Section 415 defines the crime of disturbing the peace.

Key words are "by loud or unusual noise" and "in a loud and boisterous manner."

The key words place a burden on the predawn police patrols, now that Easter is three months gone.

A three-month-old rooster, raised as an Easter chick, salutes daybreak with his classic cry — loud, unusual and boisterous.

Lots of kids around here were given Easter chicks.

SO POLICEMEN ON PREDAWN DUTY get the word again and again these July days — "check the 415 rooster" a couple of doors south, or west, or maybe north, of such-and-such an address.

The worst thing about it, officers say, is that young and inexperienced roosters mistake flashing electric lights for daybreak.

"They crow all night. We wake up the owners and recommend chicken stew for breakfast."

Older and more worldly roosters, like Bum Jr., a banlam pet over in Carson, take care to salute only the true approach of day.

"And he has a nice tone to his voice, and doesn't bother any neighbors," explained Bum Jr.'s owner, Don Schultz, 16, Carson High senior, of 133 E. 229th St., Carson.

Visiting Prof Tells of British Campus Woe

By WALT MURRAY
Staff Writer

Giving dissident students a greater voice in governing English universities has worked better than calling the police to campus, a British member of parliament teaching at California State College, Long Beach said Friday.

But, he said, most British campus disorders have been limited to demonstrations, sit-ins and peaceful occupation of college buildings.

Leslie Huckfield, the Labour Party's youngest member of parliament, is studying California colleges while serving as visiting summer professor at CSLB.

The 27-year-old member of the House of Commons, who wears a reddish-brown beard and colorful neckties, says English educators are keeping an eye on California schools "for a foretaste of what may happen on British campuses."

But although English students "have the same aspirations and slogans" as California students, "violence and revolutionary tactics" have been largely absent, he said.

He called most student demands "quite legitimate" and said universities can afford student participation "right up to the top levels," but feels students shouldn't overrule college faculties.

And, he noted, he doesn't support "throwing rocks at campus windows under any circumstances."

Huckfield emphasized he wasn't trying to tell Americans how to handle their campus disorders, but said he thought English authorities would do things differently.

"In England," he said, "bringing police on campus would encourage violent tactics by the students. It would confirm their revolutionary theories."

He said British educators who "held dialogue" with student activists had been most successful in solving campus crises.

He noted "as many as 90 per cent" of English students went to college on government grants.

"If the government even talks of withholding those grants, it exerts pressure on most students not to rebel," Huckfield said.

"They've also seen that violence and property damage loses public support," he said.

Huckfield, elected to the House of Commons at 24, is sympathetic to charges by British and American students that their universities are overcrowded, impersonal and structured archaically.

He said Britain has its equivalent to the Students for a Democratic Society — the Radical Socialist Student Federation — but nothing like America's Black Student Union.

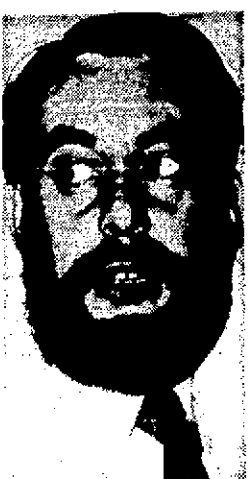

"On English campuses, there's more racial harmony than elsewhere," he said. "The universities lead the rest of the country in good race relations."

One reason for this, he said, is that black students in England come from varied backgrounds — many were born in Africa or the Caribbean islands.

"Colored students" make up 10 to 25 per cent of the student population at most British urban universities, he said.

Huckfield, who expects to remain in the Southland through the end of July, said he was "quite impressed" with "the quality of the political science department and the enthusiasm of the students" at Long Beach.

Police to Ask Council for Pay Raise, Benefits

By BILL GAGNON
Staff Writer

Stating "the people have a right to know", the Long Beach Police Officers Association said Friday they will present pay raise and fringe benefit proposals Wednesday directly to City Council.

Presenting the proposals for the police association will be Dr. Paul M. Whisenand, associate professor of criminology at California State College, Long Beach.

In seeking council approval of their requests the association is departing from its usual procedure of teaming with the Fire Department in matters of mutual concern.

"We're taking an academic approach that will not only be of benefit to police personnel, but to all Long Beach residents as well, if approved," Officer Carl Bloom, member of the three-man L.B.P.O.A. salary committee, said.

Each proposed item has been carefully researched and backed with supporting facts, Bloom said, and each is in line with those from other departments of comparable size in the state.

BLOOM POINTED OUT IF POLICE service is to be an attractive career opportunity, it must offer compensation competitive with other occupations or professions seeking men with education and ability.

"... Police service — in Long Beach — presently does not offer competitive salaries to the college graduate or to other talented persons," he added.

While the police package seeks a 10.8 per cent salary increase for sworn personnel, City Mgr. John R. Mansell already has made a preliminary offer of 7.5 per cent.

Other items in the association package include:

- A minimum educational requirement of 30 college units for department recruits.
- Creation of a new rank of "Police Agent," between patrolman and sergeant, for certain specialists, including detectives.
- Clothing maintenance allowance of $120 a year for all sworn officers.
- Additional pay for helicopter patrol personnel, and overtime pay.
- Adoption of the California Highway Patrol retirement plan.

Sun Saves Melon Feast From Bust

Friday's sudden thunderstorm produced more water than melons for a time at the 12th annual watermelon feed staged in 14 parks and 16 playgrounds by the Southeast Parks and Recreation District of La Mirada-Norwalk. But the sun staged a comeback in time for youngsters like Lucy Pratt, Paula Alvarez and Ramona Bishop (seated left above) and baby Susan Amio with pal Scott Ailes, to eat their share of 500 melons provided for the occasion. An antilitter "rind patrol," concluded day's activities.

L.B. Man, Sailor Drown

By TOM WILLMAN
Staff Writer

A Long Beach man and a teen-age sailor drowned Friday in separate water accidents.

The victims were identified as 18-year-old Gary Hair of Oklahoma City, Okla., and 32-year-old Donald Matland, of 358 Winslow Ave.

Hair drowned when he disappeared while swimming after a stray football, about 150 yards offshore from pier 20 at the Long Beach Naval Base.

Navy divers recovered the body after attempts to do so by Hair's shipmates from the USS New Orleans failed, according to Patrolman Tom Beckman and Gary Sutton, who responded to the call.

In the other drowning,

Matland lost his life while attempting to aid his wife, Doris, who fell into the rushing waters of the Kaweah River in Sequoia National Park, while soaking her feet.

Park rangers said Mrs. Matland managed to cling to some rocks until rescued by telephone company employees and other rangers who heard her cries for help.

Matland, however, was carried downstream by the swiftly moving water and his body has not yet been recovered.

I, P-T Ad Sold Her '63 Pontiac

Mrs. Frank Postuma, 1928 Pacific Ave., Long Beach, told us when she canceled her ad that "A man drove all the way from La Habra to buy our '63 Pontiac. The results were terrific, and we're still getting many calls."

Used cars, jeeps, trailers, and campers sell like they were new. An economical way to advertise is with an ad in the Independent Press-Telegram classified section. I, P-T HOT LINES can be reached at HE 2-5959 in Long Beach, ME 3-0764 in Lakewood; TO 6-1721 in Bellflower and JE 7-7441 in Orange County.

Build Permits Pass $62-Million Mark

Construction valuation this year rose past the $62-million mark Friday, as the Building Department issued a permit for a $386,625 warehouse at 3201 E. 59th St.

The two-story concrete structure will be built by Bryan Industrial Properties Inc., for Servomation Steuber, Inc.

Styling Shop Hit

Burglars forced open a rear door at Castilian Men's Hair Styling Shop, 6629 Cherry Ave., and hauled off a stereo unit and hair supplies worth $320, Long Beach police reported Friday.

EASTER'S MONSTERS

415 Roosters--Be Chicken 'til Dawn

By DICK EMERY

What, you may ask, is a 415 rooster?

Glad you brought that up!

Back in 1877, the Legislature wrote into law Section 415 of the California Penal Code.

Section 415 defines the crime of disturbing the peace.

Key words are "by loud or unusual noise" and "in a loud and boisterous manner."

The key words place a burden on the predawn police patrols, now that Easter is three months gone.

A three-month-old rooster, raised as an Easter chick, salutes daybreak with his classic cry — loud, unusual and boisterous.

Lots of kids around here were given Easter chicks.

SO POLICEMEN ON PREDAWN DUTY get the word again and again these July days — "check the 415 rooster" a couple of doors south, or west, or maybe north, of such-and-such an address.

The worst thing about it, officers say, is that young and inexperienced roosters mistake flashing electric lights for daybreak.

"They crow all night. We wake up the owners and recommend chicken stew for breakfast."

Older and more worldly roosters, like Bum Jr., a bantam pet over in Carson, take care to salute only the true approach of day.

"And he has a nice tone to his voice, and doesn't bother any neighbors," explained Bum Jr.'s owner, Don Schultz, 16, Carson High senior, of 133 E. 229th St., Carson.

A prudent rooster, indeed, is Bum Jr. — Don's dad owns and runs the State Poultry Co. at 319 E. Lomita Blvd., which deals in such things as the ingredients for chicken stew.

City Approves Day Care Clinic, Seeks Location

By DON BRACKENBURY
Staff Writer

Action is under way toward establishment of a Neighborhood Facilities Center, including a child-care center, and the city soon will ask for federal funds to aid the project.

The City Council has approved "in principle" development of child care services, and instructed the city manager's office to proceed. "The need for child care services for those mothers who find it necessary to work has been recognized by community organizations and individuals for some time," explained City Manager John R. Mansell.

The noted lack of such facilities, particularly in the Central Area, was cited as "an item of major concern" in the 1966 survey by the Long Beach Community Welfare Council.

STATISTICS PROVIDED BY THE STATE Department of Employment and the Los Angeles County Department of Social Services indicate the problem is increasing in severity, Mansell said.

Community groups have been seeking solutions to the problem, and have suggested construction of a Neighborhood Facilities Center, with child-care services as a major component, Mansell said.

The city manager said his office has been studying construction of such a facility for some time, and has determined federal assistance is available for two-thirds of the cost, if the city will guarantee the use of the facility for its intended purposes for 20 years and that it have "adequate and continuous management."

The center also must offer "multiple services that are neighborhood oriented," Mansell said. He suggested the center be aimed at providing family, maternal and child-care needs.

Additional services could include a maternal and child health program, dental health, home management, communicable disease control, nutrition and health education, Head Start programs, volunteer community services, employment counseling and job placement, and various social services.

MANSELL SAID ADMINISTRATION and control of the proposed facility must remain with the city, but suggested that management of the child-care program, or other programs offered, could be delegated some community agency or to the Long Beach Commission on Economic Opportunities.

Because the facility would require an estimated 40,000 square feet, Mansell said, there is no city land that could be used, other than existing parks. Use of private property would raise the cost, not only because of the land value, but also because of possible relocation of homes or businesses, he said.

Estimated cost of the building on city property would be $275,000, but this would jump to about $485,000 if acquisition of the site is necessary, Mansell said.

Gunman Takes $4,000, Store Manager's Car

A gunman robbed a Patino's Market, 2319 E. El Segundo Blvd.

Patino was on his way from the bank to his car when the bandit accosted him at 4:10 p.m.

The robber fled in the victim's 1969 black and green Chevrolet Impala, detectives said.

YOUR HOROSCOPE by JEANE DIXON

Forecast for Sunday

Your birthday today: Healthy self-interest in the coming year will lead you to a less complicated way of life. Much that has happened in the past may come to be forgiven or reevaluated. Today's motives generally seek lofty ideas, sometimes with much personal sacrifice.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Gather friends and neighbors for an active, social day. Get the younger ones interested in the affairs of the home and family; give them all something to do.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Divide your day among group affairs, visiting friends briefly, and resting. The evening lends itself to quiet conversation.

GEHNI (May 21-June 20): There isn't very much to fret about now, so just enjoy being alive. If the urge to work overcomes you, try straightening out your budget.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Today you must come to terms with your ambitions, however vaguely you may express them. Room for growth may be difficult to come by until sometime in September. Begin planning now.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your Sunday is more enjoyable and more productive if you will think of the future, older people have some interesting things to tell you, although most of their suggestions are inapplicable.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Fresh social and business contacts develop spontaneously if you are cheerful, outgoing, and tactful. One source of pleasure is more helpful than usual.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Travel today can combine business and pleasure well, but get the business part done early.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Now that it is Sunday it is time to slow down and allow other people a chance to catch up.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): People are certain to scatter themselves a bit this Sunday. Make allowance for most of them to be somewhat late.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): This Sunday really has all sorts of joy for the young in spirit. Get up early and steadily pace yourself in the lively atmosphere.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): If you will just do what is convenient and consistent, this serene Sunday will be one of the nicest you've had in a long time. Give some thought to the care of your health.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Put on your best attire, get started bright and early and make a long day of just celebrating Sunday.

TO MEET BUILDING NEEDS

$500,000 HUD Loan OK'd for L.B. Memorial Hospital

A $500,000 loan to Memorial Hospital of Long Beach for construction of housing for physicians was approved Friday by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, according to Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Long Beach.

"The loan will literally double our accommodations for interns and resident physicians," said a hospital spokesman.

He noted that 40 resident doctors, interns and their dependents currently are housed in the Earl Burns Miller House, a two-story residency built for 28 occupants on the hospital campus.

The HUD funds will be used to construct a second two-story facility near the existing residency, the spokesman reported, adding, "With the loan, we expect to have construction under way by the first of the year."

The loan comes at an opportune time, for with the proposed opening of the Children's Hospital addition in 1970, a new group of physicians will require housing.

ORANGE CO.

A Rough Time for Schools

By BOB GEIVET
Staff Writer

It was rough going for financing measures in 21 Orange County school districts in the 1968-69 fiscal year, when 36 proposals were laid before voters. Twenty-one were rejected.

School officials, who declined to speak for publication, predicted voter-acceptance of bonds and tax hikes during the present 1969-70 fiscal year will also be "disappointing."

In all cases, it will mean a tightening of outlays, particularly those considered "frills" or which can be interpreted as being in that classification. Some capital outlays will be stalled.

SEVERAL school districts intend to cut down on bus schedules.

Of the financing measures before voters last year, 10 were for tax increases. Only eight passed.

One was for a change in a previously-approved tax rate hike; it was approved.

There were 16 bond elections; only six were approved.

Districts approving tax hikes included Placentia, Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Brea-Olinda, Tustin High, Anaheim city, Ocean View and San Joaquin.

BREA-OLINDA voters twice rejected tax increased before approving one. Voters in Santa Ana, Anaheim and Tustin rejected tax hikes once but approved the second time around. One rejection was enough in Magnolia and Garden Grove. Elections in Yorba Linda refused tax hikes on two occasions.

Bonds were approved in Centralia, Fountain Valley, San Joaquin, Newport-Mesa, Huntington Beach and Placentia.

Rejections of bonds were in Placentia, the first time around; Huntington Beach High, Fullerton twice, Yorba Linda, Anaheim City, Yorba Linda and Garden Grove.

Orange Coast Junior College District at Costa Mesa also lost a bond issue, and lost a recount asked by school officials.

MEANTIME, it was announced that a proposal to issue $33,350,000 in bonds for the Santa Ana Unified School District will be put before voters on Oct. 14.

Dr. Charles Miller, district business manager, said the money, if approved by voters, "will practically rebuild" the district's school system, which now includes 30 schools.

ST. CYPRIAN RITES FOR OWEN REINCE

Services for Dr. Owen Reince, associate dean of the school of education at California State College at Long Beach, were held Friday at St. Cyprian's Catholic Church.

The veteran faculty member died Sunday at age 47 while on vacation in Rapid City, S.D.

Reince, of 5502 Ocana Ave., joined the CSLB faculty in 1956 after serving as a teacher and administrator in Wisconsin schools. He earned his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin.

DR. OWEN REINCE

THE EDUCATOR, named associate dean two years ago, was a member of several professional, civic and honorary societies. He was recently initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education.

"Dr. Reince was a towering giant, not only in physical stature but, more importantly, in character, intellect, integrity and compassion," said Dr. Thomas Weiss, dean of the School of Education.

He is survived by his wife, Loretta; five children, Charles, Thomas, Robert, Mary and Carol; his parents, two brothers and three sisters.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

'Not Guilty' Pleaded in Bar Death

Geary Wayne Johnson, 24, accused of the June 10 slaying of a Gardena man outside a Long Beach bar, Friday pleaded innocent to a manslaughter charge and was ordered to face trial Aug. 6.

Johnson, police said, struck David Tuhi following an argument outside a downtown bar. Tuhi fell and was pronounced dead at a hospital a short while later.

The defendant will be returned to Department D of Long Beach Superior Court for trial. He is now being held in jail in lieu of $5,250 bail.

MRS. BAIRD ON ADOPTION UNIT AGAIN

A Long Beach resident has been reapointed to a three-year term on the Los Angeles County Adoptions Advisory Commission, Supervisor Burton W. Chace announced Friday.

Mrs. Borgny Baird, of 4270 Long Beach Blvd., will enter her new term with the commission Aug. 5.

"Mrs. Baird has played a key role in the accomplishments of this group," said Chace, terming the commission an "active" one.

The five-member commission is appointed by the supervisors to serve in an advisory capacity to the county's Department of Adoptions.

IN ANOTHER action, Superior Court Judge Roy Bown has ordered a psychiatric study and evaluation for a 23-year-old man who pleaded no contest to attempted murder charges.

Peter John Guido surrendered himself to Long Beach police officers April 1 after firing a hail of bullets at two acquaintances. The two, Joyce Rogers, 24, of 120 E. 12th St., and James Harding, 25, of Corona Del Mar, were wounded by the fusillade.

Guido pleaded no contest on June 10. On Thursday, Judge Brown suspended sentence pending results of the psychiatric inquiry. Results of the study will be considered when the defendant undergoes probation and sentencing hearing following the tests.

Dominguez Water Group Negotiates With City

Negotiations with Dominguez Water Corp. for acquisition of its facilities in Longwood Estates are progressing satisfactorily, according to a report to the Water Commission.

C. Kenyon Wells, general manager of the Water

Department, said the corporation's estimates of the value of its services, plus the cost of connecting to Long Beach lines, total about $96,000.

Dominguez Water Corp. serves about 230 customers between Long Beach Boulevard and Susana Road, north of Victoria Street, Wells reported.

Water commissioners instructed him in January to begin negotiations with the private firm.

L.B. Oil Islands to Be Subject of Broadcast

The past, present and future of the Long Beach oil islands was to be examined on "Celebrity Showcase" on KNAC-FM.

Guests on the program were to include Lenny Brock, director of oil properties for the City of Long Beach; Jim Roche, president of THUMS Long Beach Co., and John R. Mansell, city manager.

What Is Being Done for Those Kids?

The Long Beach Psychiatric Clinic for Children, 5887 Atlantic Ave., draws support from the cities of Long Beach, Lakewood and Signal Hill, the PTA, Community Welfare Council, L.B. Unified School District and various other civic agencies. In business since 1945, the clinic last April initiated a new project: the treatment and evaluation of youngsters suspended from school because of narcotics offenses. This story is an in-depth look at what the clinic is doing in the narcotics treatment field. Main news section, Sunday.

TO MEET BUILDING NEEDS

$500,000 HUD Loan OKd for L.B. Memorial Hospital

A $500,000 loan to Memorial Hospital of Long Beach for construction of housing for physicians was approved Friday by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, according to Rep. Craig Hosmer, R-Long Beach.

"The loan will literally double our accommodations for interns and resident physicians," said a hospital spokesman.

He noted that 40 resident doctors, interns and their dependents currently are housed in the Earl Burns Miller House, a two-story residency built for 28 occupants on the hospital campus.

The HUD funds will be used to construct a second two-story facility near the existing residency, the spokesman reported, adding, "With the loan, we expect to have construction under way by the first of the year."

The loan comes at an opportune time, for with the proposed opening of the Children's Hospital addition in 1970, a new group of physicians will require housing.

B.B.—King of the Blues

"Blues is a message," says R. B. King, one of the nation's hottest entertainment personalities, "and the people are starting to get it." ORANGE CO.

A Rough Time for Schools

By BOB GEIVET
Staff Writer

It was rough going for financing measures in 21 Orange County school districts in the 1968-69 fiscal year, when 36 proposals were laid before voters. Twenty-one were rejected. School officials, who declined to speak for publication, predicted voter-acceptance of bonds and tax hikes during the present 1969-70 fiscal year will also be "disappointing."

In all cases, it will mean a tightening of outlays, particularly those considered "frills" or which can be interpreted as being in that classification. Some capital outlays will be stalled.

SEVERAL school districts intend to cut down on bus schedules.

Of the financing measures before voters last year, 10 were for tax increases. Only eight passed.

One was for a change in a previously-approved tax rate hike; it was approved.

There were 16 bond elections; only six were approved.

Districts approving tax hikes included Placentia, Santa Ana, Huntington Beach, Brea-Olinda, Tustin High, Anaheim city, Ocean View and San Joaquin.

BREA-OLINDA voters twice rejected tax increased before approving one. Voters in Santa Ana, Anaheim and Tustin rejected tax hikes once but approved the second time around. One rejection was enough in Magnolia and Garden Grove. Electors in Yorba Linda refused tax hikes on two occasions.

Bonds were approved in Centralia, Fountain Valley, San Joaquin, Newport-Mesa, Huntington Beach and Placentia.

Rejections of bonds were in Placentia, the first time around; Huntington Beach High, Fullerton twice, Yorba Linda, Anaheim City, Yorba Linda and Garden Grove.

Orange Coast Junior College District at Costa Mesa also lost a bond issue, and lost a recount asked by school officials.

MEANTIME, it was announced that a proposal to issue $33,350,000 in bonds for the Santa Ana Unified School District will be put before voters on Oct. 14.

Dr. Charles Miller, district business manager, said the money, if approved by voters, "will practically rebuild" the district's school system, which now includes 30 schools.

ST. CYPRIAN RITES FOR OWEN REINCE

Services for Dr. Owen Reince, associate dean of the school of education at California State College at Long Beach, were held Friday at St. Cyprian's Catholic Church.

The veteran faculty member died Sunday at age 47 while on vacation in Rapid City, S.D.

Reince, of 5502 Ocana Ave., joined the CSLB faculty in 1956 after serving as a teacher and administrator in Wisconsin schools. He earned his Ph.D. at the University of Wisconsin.

DR. OWEN REINCE

THE EDUCATOR, named associate dean two years ago, was a member of several professional, civic and honorary societies. He was recently initiated into Kappa Delta Pi, a national honor society in education.

"Dr. Reince was a towering giant, not only in physical stature but, more importantly, in character, intellect, integrity and compassion," said Dr. Thomas Weiss, dean of the School of Education.

He is survived by his wife, Loretta; five children, Charles, Thomas, Robert, Mary and Carol; his parents, two brothers and three sisters.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE

'Not Guilty' Pleaded in Bar Death

Geary Wayne Johnson, 24, accused of the June 10 slaying of a Gardena man outside a Long Beach bar, Friday pleaded innocent to a manslaughter charge and was ordered to face trial Aug. 6.

Johnson, police said, struck David Tuhi following an argument outside a downtown bar. Tuhi fell and was pronounced dead at a hospital a short while later.

The defendant will be returned to Department D of Long Beach Superior Court for trial. He is now being held in jail in lieu of $6,250 bail.

MRS. BAIRD ON ADOPTION UNIT AGAIN

A Long Beach resident has been reappointed to a three-year term on the Los Angeles County Adoptions Advisory Commission, Supervisor Burton W. Chace announced Friday.

Mrs. Borgny Baird, of 4270 Long Beach Blvd., will enter her new term with the commission Aug. 5.

"Mrs. Baird has played a key role in the accomplishments of this group," said Chace, terming the commission an "active" one.

The five-member commission is appointed by the supervisors to serve in an advisory capacity to the county's Department of Adoptions.

IN ANOTHER action, Superior Court Judge Roy Bown has ordered a psychiatric study and evaluation for a 23-year-old man who pleaded no contest in attempted murder charges.

Peter John Guido surrendered himself to Long Beach police officers April 1 after firing a hail of bullets at two acquaintances. The two, Joyce Rogers, 24, of 120 E. 12th St., and James Harding, 25, of Corona Del Mar, were wounded by the fusillade.

Guido pleaded no contest on June 10. On Thursday, Judge Brown suspended sentence pending results of the psychiatric inquiry. Results of the study will be considered when the defendant undergoes probation and sentencing hearing following the tests.

Dominguez Water Group Negotiates With City

Negotiations with Dominguez Water Corp. for acquisition of its facilities in Longwood Estates are progressing satisfactorily, according to a report to the Water Commission.

C. Kenyon Wells, general manager of the Water

Department, said the corporation's estimates of the value of its services, plus the cost of connecting to Long Beach lines, total about $96,900.

Heat, Drouth Scorch South, Destroy Crops

Associated Press

A sticky heat wave, scorching the South with oven-hot temperatures since early summer, has caused crop and pasture losses totaling millions of dollars.

The nation's capital, caught in its worst drought in 97 years, may need mandatory water rationing if heavy rains don't come.

Air conditioner sales are soaring in some cities.

Georgia farmers face some $200 million in crop losses if the drought continues, says Tommy Irvin, state agriculture commissioner. And Richard Beard, Alabama's agriculture commissioner, estimates his state's crop losses already are between $12 million and $15 million.

ALABAMA is having its worst drought since 1951, said Beard. Corn, soybeans and cotton have been some of the hardest hit crops in most southern states.

The hot, dry weather, which has snared to 106 degrees in some Mississippi counties, has extensively damaged that state's watermelon crop. And Louisiana, Arkansas and Tennessee officials report those states have suffered some crop damage and are now reaching the critical stage.

"Next week, it'll be an all-out crisis," said one Tennessee producer.

Forests are so dry in northwest Louisiana and east Texas that foresters on vacation are being called back on a standby basis, said J. Y. Oakes of the Louisiana State Experiment Station. Pastures are parched and the woodland situation is serious.

The broiling heat is even affecting broilers — chickens, that is. "Chickens are just like you and me," said Alabama's agriculture commissioner.

Most states reported rains have been so erratic culture commissioner. "They just lie around in all this heat and don't do anything."

In Mississippi, where poultry is a major industry, farmers and processors report chickens are dying in increasing numbers, both in hen houses and en route to the processing plant.

Broiler size is declining and egg production is down.

Seven southwest Georgia counties have requested disaster funds because of the drought damage. Farmers have cut back their estimates of peanut and tobacco production.

"IT'S LOOKING like the drought years of 1930 and 1944," said G. J. Green, county agent for St. Francis County, Ark.

"The cotton is spotted, soybeans critical, pastures are burning and the rice farmers are keeping their fields running all night because of the evaporation."

In Louisiana, cotton "is literally standing still," said Oakes.

Leon Scott, manager of the farmers market in Jackson, Miss., says: "Our crops are just wilting. If this keeps up much longer it will be disastrous."

Rainfall in north Florida — where rain is often frequent — is two inches below normal.

"It was a very dry June and a lot of crops were damaged by the severe drought," said John Lang, forecaster at the Tallahassee weather bureau.

"However, in the past week, we've gotten rather heavy scattered showers and the conditions have improved."

"THREE FLORIDA counties — Gadsden, Leon and Jefferson — however, report heavy corn crop damage."

Most states reported rains have been so erratic and scattered that some counties were in fair shape while others have severe crop damage.

In Atlanta, Ga., and Tampa, Fla., the sale of air conditioners soared along with the temperatures. By late June, many Atlanta stores had none to sell.

In Tampa, Guy Thomas said his appliance store sold as many units in June as he usually sells in a whole summer.

The historic Potomac River, main water supply for the more than two million residents of greater Washington, is at a record low for early July. Officials said unless there is heavy rainfall fairly soon, prospects for mandatory restriction of water is likely.

L.A. Branch Libraries Will Open Saturdays

Twelve Los Angeles city branch libraries open their doors to the public today, marking a new expansion in service to include Saturdays.

A $100,000 increase for libraries in the city's 1966-70 budget enabled the facilities to remain open in Los Angeles' first major expansion of Saturday library service in more than a dozen years.

The funds will be used to hire additional staff to handle the extra service, according to Mrs. Leontyne B. King, city library commission president.

"Now that we have taken this important step forward, we can begin working on other needed service improvements," she said.
